READY FOR ANY EMERGENCY—State highway patrolmen of the Salem barracks are joining with other patrolmen throughout the state in observing the patrol's 23rd anniversary today.

Patrolmen are equipped to handle practically any highway emergency.

Above, Cpl. John Miller, officer in charge of the local barracks, is shown inspecting the equipment normally carried in the patrol cruisers. Included are a first aid kit, rope, chains, warning fuses, shotgun, rifle, crowbars and a stretcher which can be folded into a compact roll. A radio transmitter can be seen in the center of the trunk.

Salem Barracks Joins In Anniversary

State Patrol 23 Years Old

The Salem sub-station of the Ohio Highway Patrol today joined with other barracks in observing the State Patrol's 23rd anniversary.

The patrol station was established here soon after the first patrolmen were assigned back on Nov. 15, 1933. The late Cpl. J. E. Ivory was the first officer in charge here.

AT FIRST THERE WERE two men stationed in Salem and later three. Gradually, this complement was increased and today the Salem barracks is manned by 11 men, including Cpl. J. F. Miller, who is in charge.

The others include Patrolmen W. D. Morris, J. B. Patterson, J. P. Wilson, W. R. Jones, D. L. Sanfrey, J. M. Wattleworth, M. A. Darrah, N. A. Kanagy, W. J. Wilson and Post Dispatcher Ray Thompson.

Sanfrey is being transferred tomorrow to the Castalia station along the Ohio Turnpike and will be replaced here by a new patrolman, Robert Thompson of Youngstown.

ALTHOUGH the state highway patrol has been identified directly with Salem for 23 years it will move next summer to new barracks now under construction on Route 30 just south of Lisbon.

When the Ohio Highway Patrol took over the job of enforcing the state traffic laws back in 1933 there were 60 men in the state patrol ranks. Today there are 715 men in the organization and its duties and responsibilities have expanded correspondingly. Of the original 60 men, 11 still remain in the ranks of the patrol, including the superintendent, Col. George Mingle of Columbus.

A few are now retired, including F. S. VanAllen, who was in charge of the Salem barracks at one time.

Elderly Driver Killed In Crash

Another Man Hurt In Mishap near Canfield

A Mineral Ridge man was pronounced dead on arrival at Youngstown South Side Hospital Wednesday following a traffic mishap at 3:10 p.m. at the intersection of Rt. 165 and the Washingtonville-Canfield Road east of Greenford.

William G. Owen, 71, the victim, died almost instantly of a crushed chest.

The driver of the other vehicle, Elmer E. Good, 26, of Youngstown, was admitted to the hospital with a possible fracture of the right leg and severe head lacerations. No charges were brought against Good.

State highway patrolmen of the Canfield barracks said Owen was traveling south on the Washingtonville-Canfield Road and Good was enroute west on Rt. 165 when the accident occurred.

Both cars were virtually demolished, they said.

The intersection was the scene of another accident Oct. 21 in which an East Liverpool man, Louis Williams, 63, sustained fatal injuries, patrolmen reported. Williams died

Two In Poor Condition Here After Mishaps

Two area residents are in poor condition today in City Hospital following mishaps Wednesday.

Miss Shirley Stouffer, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Stouffer of RD 1, Washingtonville, received internal injuries when she was kicked by a horse owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilkinson.

The accident occurred at about 9 p.m. on the Wilkinson farm on the Salem-Washingtonville Road, near Freedie's Tavern.

Clyde VanFossan, 59, of 361 Union St., Columbiana was injured when he fell from a coal car at the Stahl Coal & Builders Supply Co. in Columbiana at 3:30 p.m.

The mishap occurred as VanFossan, an employe of the company, was unloading the coal car. It is believed he lost his balance when the brake released, causing the car to move.

He sustained multiple rib fractures, a fracture of the left shoulder and possible internal injuries.

Blake Spent $232 In Bid For Re-Election

State Sen. Arthur Blake spent $232.81 in his successful bid for a fifth term in the Nov. 6 election, he said in a sworn statement of campaign expenditures filed Wednesday with the Columbiana County Election Board.

Two more candidates have filed reports to comply with the "Corrupt Practices Act," which puts a ceiling on campaign spending. Clerk of Courts John W. Coleman, elected to a new term, said he spent $219.93. Richard G. Brian, unsuccessful Republican candidate for county treasurer, reported expenses of $383.62.

Two boards of education reported they had no expenses in connection with votes on operating levies. The reports were filed by the Salem board and the Beaver Local board.

Under a new law candidates have until 30 days after an election — instead of the former 10 — to file the reports. The new law also provides that payments in excess of $25 need to be vouched for with a receipted bill. Formerly candidates were required to file receipts for bills of $10 or over.

U.S. To Replace 8 Ambassadors

Dulles Dissatisfied With Some Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration is reported planning a major shakeup of ambassadors in at least eight countries during the next few months.

The reshuffle will send a new lineup of American envoys to the four most important Western European countries—Britain, France, Italy and West Germany.

In the Asiatic area, new ambassadors are to be appointed to India, the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand. Three of these posts are now vacant.

Planned for Some Time

Nearly all the diplomatic changes have been planned for a long time, especially those involving the Western European posts. But they also come at a time when top State Department officials, including Secretary Dulles, are known to be dissatisfied with the caliber of some diplomatic reports immediately before the outbreak of Middle East hostilities.

Dulles is understood to have been particularly upset that Am-

Units Of U.N. Police Force Arrive In Suez

Russia Makes Perilous Gamble In Middle East

Entry Of 'Volunteers' Could Set In Motion Third World Conflict

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia is believed to be making a dangerous gamble for very high stakes with its offer of "volunteers" to assist in Egypt's struggle against Britain, France and Israel.

The danger is that large-scale Soviet military intervention in this vitally important area of the world, even through the device of volunteers, could lead to a conflict that would touch off World War III.

President Eisenhower told a news conference Wednesday that the United States would back the U.N. in any steps to oppose entry of Russian or Red Chinese "volunteers."

He did not say what precise steps might be contemplated. The U. N., he said, "is not by any manner of means limited to resolutions."

The prize which may be luring the Russians on is ultimate domination of the region. The men in the Kremlin may see the present confused and uncertain conditions in the region as an opportunity to try for a strangle hold on the flow of oil, the sea lanes and the air bases that make the Middle East one of the most strategically important pieces of geography anywhere.

Yet the risks are great and some officials are still of the opinion that the Soviets perhaps are bluffing. They argue that even a Soviet bluff, backed up possibly by token assignments of "volunteers," would serve two large purposes:

1. To present the Soviet Union as the protector and defender of the Arab world and thereby earn Arab good will which would create long-range political influence for Moscow in the area.

2. To frustrate the United Nations peace program, based on putting a U. N. police force into Egypt and getting the British and French out. The underlying aim would be to keep the Middle East in turmoil as long as possible and see what further opportunities might open up for building Russian strength and influence there, perhaps with less risk than at present.

Refugees Swamp Austrian Relief

VIENNA (AP)—With nearly 30,000 new Hungarian refugees on their hands within the past 10 days, Austria's state and private relief organizations are in trouble.

In urgent appeals to the nation broadcast repeatedly during the night, the Austrian government declared that unless more financial and material help was received immediately, the refugee aid program was endangered.

Demands Nagy Leave Yugoslav Embassy To Negotiate

Hungary's Premier Won't Break Ties With Russia

VIENNA (AP) — Russia's puppet Premier of Hungary, Janos Kadar, today rejected neutrality as a future policy for the nation and refused any negotiations with former Premier Imre Nagy as long as he remains in the asylum of the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest.

Kadar set the policy of his regime in a statement to a workers' delegation, broadcast by Budapest radio, which showed clearly he has no intention of walking out of the Soviet-dominated Warsaw Pact or giving up the close ties with Moscow which set off the three-week revolution.

Kadar said that a neutral Hungary — which Nagy had proposed during his brief tenure as premier —would be "exploited by the imperialists and lead to war." The international political situation, he added, does not favor a policy of neutrality.

Wants Nagy to Appear

As for the man the revolt had made premier briefly, Kadar said an agreement with Nagy "could be possible only if he changes his attitude and comes out of the Yugoslav Embassy to negotiate." Nagy took refuge with the Yugslavs when the Russians poured troops into Hungary and Budapest to suppress the revolution.

Budapest radio said Kadar told the workers' delegation, however, that the only parties which would be allowed to participate in elections would be those which "stand for Socialist principles and serve the interests of the workers."

The puppet Premier reiterated his previous stand that negotiations for the withdrawal of the Russian forces from Hungary can only be opened after order and peace have been restored.

The rebel guns were silent in Budapest today after the end of

U.N. Debate May Be Delayed By Wrangle

Hoover To Spell Out U. S. Position On Middle East, Hungarian Crises

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. is scheduled to spell out today for the U. N. General Assembly America's position on the Middle East and Hungarian crises.

There was some question, however, whether the 79-nation body would become bogged down in a wrangle over completing its agenda that might delay the start of general debate until Friday.

The United States Wednesday night pushed a resolution through the powerful Steering Committee recommending that the Assembly postpone for another year any action on seating Red China in the U.N. The 8-5 decision countered India's proposal that the Assembly put the question on its agenda.

India and the Soviet Union were expected to carry their fight to the Assembly. Although there was little likelihood of the committee's decision being upset, a protracted debate could follow.

B36 Crashes, 21 Survive

No Deaths Reported When Big Plane Falls

DENVER (AP)—A six-engine B36 bomber with 21 persons aboard crashed and burned north of Denver's municipal airport today, but first reports said there was no loss of life.

An officer at Lowry Air Force Base said all 21 men were taken to the hospital. He said the condition of 17 was reported not critical, but he had no reports on the others.

The crash was near 54th Avenue and Quebec Street, at the edge of federal government property of the Rocky Mountain Arsenal.

Plane Missed Homes

There are dwellings in the general area, but apparently the plane came down east of the closest houses.

Residents of the area were reported to have helped pull injured airmen from the wrecked craft.

The plane, assigned to the Strategic Air Command, was based at Ellsworth Air Force Base at Rapid City, S. D.

30 Temporary Postal Workers To Be Hired

Predicts Record Yule Mail Here Of Over 1,000,000 Pieces

Postmaster L. D. Beardmore predicted today a new record in Christmas mail — more than one million pieces. The previous record of 864,000 pieces was set last year.

"All signs point to it; people are already buying their stamps," Beardmore said.

To prepare for the increased volume of mail between now and Dec. 25, the post office will add 30 temporary workers to the normal staff of 43. The part time employes were selected from the 75 which applied for Christmas work, and will start Dec. 15.

Starting Monday, Dec. 3, the local post office will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. every weekday, and until 8 Friday evenings, and from 1 to 5 p.m. on Sundays. The extra Friday night service is being added this year to cooperate with the local stores' evening hours. If it is a success it will be continued, Beardmore said.

Beardmore urged residents to continue to mail early. "When they do we can provide better and quicker mail service. Otherwise the mail bunches up and delay is inevitable," he said.

To help residents in the mailing of cards and parcels, the postmaster had a number of suggestions.

The local office will furnish free labels for senders who bundle cards according to destination as "out of city" and "in city."

Beardmore stressed that in wrapping parcels, heavy cardboard, paper and cord be used to withstand the hard handling packages re-

Reformatory Escapee Nabbed

Search E. Liverpool Area For Companion

EAST LIVERPOOL — A 19-year-old Irondale man who escaped from the Ohio Reformatory at Mansfield Nov. 7 was captured early this morning in the east end here when police walked in on an attempted auto theft, and a search continued today for his fellow escapee, who fled on foot and disappeared in a big wooded tract in the area.

Clyde Alexander McDole, formerly of East Liverpool, was captured by Patrolman Robert Duffy and Paul Burson, a special officer and a freelance photographer, and the search continued for Clyde Harold Wisenbarger, Jr., 20, who was sentenced to the reformatory from Stark County for forgery and burglary.

A cordon comprised of East Liverpool officers, two sheriff's cars, two state highway patrol cars and Liverpool Township Constable Wilbert Taylor conducted an all-night search for Wisenbarger in a wooded area of about four square miles from the east end north to Calcutta and extending east to the Ohio-Pennsylvania state line.

Acting Chief Robert H. Pyle, who announced the capture, said McDole will be charged in Municipal Court with driving an auto without the owner's consent in connection with one of a series of car thefts in the district that followed the escape from the reformatory. The FBI also will be called into the case because McDole admitted at least one of the stolen cars had been driven across state lines, the chief said.

Raimond Gives Self Up; Free Under Bond

Jerry Raimond, 33, former East Liverpool special officer secretly indicted by the recalled September Grand Jury Tuesday, was released under bond this morning on a charge of receiving and concealing stolen property. Raimond gave his address as Newell, W. Va.

Raimond, who walked into the county sheriff's office at Lisbon this morning, was given a preliminary hearing by Probate Judge Louis Tobin who fixed the cash bond at $1,000.

One of seven East Liverpool policemen and special patrolmen involved in the East Liverpool "police scandal" earlier this year, Raimond was found not guilty of the burglary of the Berman Lumber Co. in East Liverpool in 1954 during his trial last June.

Also acquitted was Ira Cunningham, 50, a policeman charged with being involved in the Berman Co. burglary.

The prosecution suffered a setback in the trial when Dallas Bishop, 38, former East Liverpool special policeman, refuted a 12-page statement linking him and the two defendants in the Berman Co. burglary.

Following the acquittal of Raimond and Cunningham, County Prosecutor James L. MacDonald requested and was granted a delay in the burglary trials.

Arraignment for Raimond is set for Monday.

To Forestall Threat Of Red 'Volunteers'

Problem Remains Of Where Force Will Operate In Egypt

LONDON (AP)—First units of the U.N. Middle East police force landed in the Suez Canal zone today. They were rushed in on urgent U.N. orders in a move to forestall the threat of Communist "volunteers" being poured into the tense area.

The first Swiss airliner loaded with 45 Danish troops touched down behind the Egyptian lines at Abu Suweir. A second plane carrying 47 Norwegians also landed. Abu Suweir is on the west side of the canal near Ismailia.

A third plane carrying equipment for the international police force landed 45 minutes later. The Swissair planes were chartered by the U.N. to move the police units and supplies to Egypt.

Word of the planes arrival was radioed to the U..N. staging area at Capodichino, Italy, near Naples.

100 More to Leave

A U.N. spokesman said a second group of about 100 men will leave the staging area Friday for Egypt. He said the second contingent would be made up of the first Colombian troops and another party of Norwegians.

The U.N. command at Capodichino announced that the "technical problems with which we were faced seem now to be solved."

A spokesman added that the shuttling of planes between the staging area and the canal zone will be speeded up in the next few days.

Nothing was said, however, about solution of the major political problems of where the force would operate in Egypt and for how long.

He said he did not know of any time limit on the British-French and Israeli withdrawal.

Egypt, he added, wanted to abide by decisions of the United Nations.

Man, 70, Dies In Building Fire

About 40 Others Escape Flames

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 70-year-old retired city worker died early today in a fire in a three-story brick building.

An estimated 40 other persons escaped.

First Battalion Chief John McNea identified the victim as Steve E. Conroy, who lived in a third floor apartment. Conroy's body was found in an apartment across a hallway from his own, and McNea said he believed the man had wandered there in an effort to escape from the smoke-filled building.

Conroy formerly worked for the city parks department, friends in the building said. His wife died about six months ago, and he lived alone.

A west side man, Joe Petitto, said he carried an unconscious aged woman to safety from a second floor apartment. He said he was driving by in an automobile when he saw smoke pouring out of the building, stopped his car and ran inside to help.

The top two floors of the building contain apartments. The first floor houses the Marine Auto Parts Co.

McNea said the fire started in a second floor apartment, but that he had not determined the cause. He estimated damage to the apartments and the auto parts store at $10,000 and damage to stocks in the store at $4,000.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 17-year-old airman, believed to be the youngest jet fighter crew chief in the Air Force, was killed Wednesday when sucked into the intake of an F86-D Saberjet at nearby Lockbourne Air Force Base.

A base spokesman said A.3C. Raymond Michler of Meadville, Pa., was killed when drawn into the intake while the plane was warming up.

Repair Job Due

Overlying the critical need for effective and forthright action in the Middle East is the equally critical need for the western Big Three powers to heal the breach in their unity.

As has happened before, the Soviet Union can be credited with pointing up the urgency of that realization.

For just when nationalist movements in Poland and Hungary encouraged the West to believe the Communist empire was about to crack and collapse, chasms nearly as wide appeared in the Allied front as Britain and France moved into the fighting in Egypt and brought upon themselves strong recriminations from the United States.

In typical fashion, Moscow took advantage of this eye-diverting situation to turn its crushing power again on Hungary and to further its bid for influence in the Middle East by siding with the Arab world and even threatening to send troops of its own to Egypt's aid. In short, it reminded the Big Three where their enemy lies.

France is pushing hardest for an immediate meeting of the Big Three to resolve their differences and reaffirm their common interests. The French now admit the occupation of Egypt by two "colonial" powers without the sanction of the United States was a disastrous mistake. They are anxious to stabilize Middle East policy and head off further Communist inroads and military hazards.

Britain recognizes the need for renewed unity but is still smarting from the transatlantic rebuke. Long convinced that the United States wants to dictate their foreign policy, the British are anything but happy over their failure to carry off the Suez strategy without American backing. This is especially so because of the continued English view that United States approaches to international problems are "unrealistic."

The State Department, on the other hand, has resented just as much the attitude of our European allies that we would always be behind them, ready to pull them out of whatever difficulties they got themselves into. It sees the dispelling of that myth as a sort of silver lining to a dark cloud.

Some of the scars on the western alliance produced by events of the last two weeks will never be erased. But it is not uncommon for a good mending job to make the fabric as strong as or stronger than new.

Mr. Stassen, Please Note

Now that the analysts have finished dissecting the election results and the Eisenhower-Nixon team has been acclaimed the most successful in the history of the Republican party, it seems appropriate to recall the things Harold E. Stassen had to say before the convention in August.

You will remember that Mr. Stassen at that time was very low on Mr. Nixon—said, in effect, that he was a millstone around the neck of the President and ought not to be renominated for the vice presidency.

Mr. Stassen went further. He predicted that Mr. Nixon would cost the Republican presidential ticket millions of votes and that almost any other candidate, especially his personal choice, Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts, would make the ticket 6 per cent stronger.

We of course will never know how Mr. Eisenhower would have fared with any running mate other than Mr. Nixon—and it really doesn't make much difference.

What is important — and will Mr. Stassen please take note—is that the Eisenhower-Nixon team won 41 states, 2 more than in 1952, and attracted 10,000,000 more votes than their Democratic opponents, or approximately 3,500,000 more than the margin four years ago.

It is quite obvious that Mr. Stassen's polls and intricate calculations went wrong somewhere, and that the delegates to the Republican National Convention knew what they were doing when they refused to be sidetracked by Mr. Stassen's "scare" campaign.

If Dick Nixon was a liability to the President, you couldn't prove it by Mr. Stevenson and Mr. Kefauver.

Down With Dope

Narcotics agents who pale at the magnitude of the job of stamping out dope traffic in the United States probably are shaking their heads in wonderment at the task the government of Thailand has set for itself. It has decided the ancient custom of opium smoking will be abolished in 1957.

With something over 50,000 addicts in a population short of 20 million, the Thai rulers for years have encouraged the habit by licensing opium dens and supplying, at a nea profit to the national treasury, all the stuff sold therein. Now all that will end. Or so the government says.

Considering that depriving an Oriental population of its opium would be like depriving the United States citizenry of its tobacco, we may well look for some sort of revolution next year in happy-go-lucky Siam.

Seniority Handicaps

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Senate System Seen In Need Of Modernizing

How many of the people who voted last week to give the Democratic party control of Congress knew that by so doing they were giving the chairmanship of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to a man 89 years old?

Lawrence

It happens that the prospective chairman — Democratic Sen. Theodore F. Green of Rhode Island — is healthy and vigorous and possesses as keen a mind as many a man 50 years his junior. But, under the "seniority" system, any senator irrespective of his age or ability would have to be chosen chairman.

The "seniority system" means that the chairmen of committees in Congress are automatically chosen on the basis of their length of service in Congress irrespective of ability.

It's a system that President Wilson, Democrat, assailed back in 1913, but the pressure of both Republican and Democratic veterans in Congress at the time was too powerful for him. Rather than risk a fight that could have ended in an impairment of Mr. Wilson's whole legislative program, the issue was dropped.

TODAY THE SENIORITY system is still perhaps the most important single defect in Congressional government. For the committee chairman can sometimes withhold legislation from being acted on, or he can maneuver hearings and meetings in such a way as to carry out his objectives or those of a minority pressure group.

He can express opinions publicly at variance with the party leaders and still hold his chairmanship.

The alternative method is to let each of the parties in a conference of its own elect by secret ballot the chairman of a committee or the ranking member who is at times a sort of deputy chairman. A secret ballot would be essential to prevent reprisals or personal animosities from arising.

The seniority system could be abolished by party conference, as it is not a matter of law, but of custom. If abandoned, there is no certainty that all of the present chairmen or ranking members would continue to hold their positions of power.

Discussion already has arisen, for example, with respect to two chairmanships in the Senate.

HAD THE REPUBLICANS been given control by the people last week, there are two Republicans in the Senate now who announced beforehand to their constituencies that, if elected, they would not vote to elect Sen. McCarthy to the chairmanship of the Senate Committee for Permanent Investigations — a position to which, by reason of length of service, he would be entitled.

Similarly, there are Democrats in the northern states who would naturally be pressured by their constituencies to vote against the selection of Sen. Eastland of Mississippi, who now is in line to become chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

This is the committee which handles civil rights legislation and the confirmation of the nominations of federal judges.

Yet, while there are many Republicans and Democrats who would like to vote to select someone else for the chairmanships above mentioned, they would not do so because, if the seniority system were abandoned, they themselves would have nothing to which to look forward.

A committee chairmanship often means considerable opportunity for publicity and prestige back home —and this is a big factor in a campaign for re-election.

IN THE CASE of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee the chairman nowadays is the object of worldwide attention. Foreign ambassadors cultivate him socially. The Department of State depends on him to keep the committee from partisan interference in foreign relations.

But the temptation is strong to be partisan, especially in selecting and handling the staff members who do much of the work for the committee.

It is doubtful whether any future Democratic chairman will lean over backward as has Sen. Walter George of Georgia, to uphold the foreign policies of a Republican administration.

Some of the Democratic senators have been sniping at the State Department's policies all along, though they must have known that, primarily, circumstances beyond America's control were shaping world events, and not the alleged absence of "planning" in the State Department.

EITHER SENATOR - ELECT Lausche or the new senator to be elected soon in Texas — if the issue is persuasively made in that campaign — can give control of the Senate to the Republicans, and bestow the chairmanship of the Foreign Relations Committee on Sen. Wiley of Wisconsin, a staunch supporter of President Eisenhower's foreign policies.

That's the only way now to avoid one of the handicaps of "divided government," as Sen. Fulbright of Arkansas, Democrat, has so aptly described the result of last week's election of a Democratic Congress and a Republican president.

Democracy Real In U. S.

By JULIAN HARTT

BRAWLEY, CALIF. Dalip Singh Saund, the 57-year-old Hindu judge of the Imperial Valley's justice court, is returning to his native Indian as a dramatic, living demonstration that "American democracy is real."

No longer is he just the ex-rancher, the successful fertilizer dealer in this vast desert turned green by irrigation, the dark-skinned immigrant who became judge and cleaned up a local vice problem.

Today, wherever he goes on the streets, men and women rush up to this freckle-faced, slight-statured man with the richly black hair, clasp his brown hand or throw their arms about his shoulders, crying:

"Congratulations, congressman!"

That is Dalip Singh Saund's new role, United States congressman from California's 110,000 square mile 29th district, three times as the Indian state of Punjab where he was born.

That is why Saund, the first person of his race or religion ever to serve in the American House of Representatives, yet a man who only 10 years ago was ineligible even for citizenship, is making his pilgrimage to India before taking office in January.

"I am keeping a campaign promise," he said, "to tell the people over there that what has happened to me could only happen in America."

His potential as a propaganda weapon in the vast sub-continent, where neutralism has left the door ajar to communism, has not been lost on the State Department, either.

Official representatives photographed Saund during and after his campaign, as he drove his own car up and down sprawling Imperial and Riverside counties fighting against seemingly insurmountable odds.

One obstacle was the fact that no Democrat ever had been elected to state or national office from the district, where the seat was being vacated by Rep. John Phillips after 14 years in the House.

Another was his formidable opponent, Mrs. Jacqueline Cochran Odlum, famous aviatriz, successful cosmetics firm owner, staunch Republican whose campaign included airplanes, movie stars and a $57,000 fund, much of it drawn from Palm Springs friends.

Not until nearly noon of the day after election was the verdict certain—Saund had 52,812 votes; Mrs. Odlum had 48,748. She went golfing, and he toasted his victory with a soft drink.

The Saunds have not made exact plans for January and beyond. Mrs. Saund is not certain she will go to Washington, but:

"If I can help, I want to be there with him."

For the present, however, Saund knows the message he will carry to India, how he will explain the success and honor he has won in a free Amercan democracy:

"I just took advantage of the opportunities that are open to everyone in this country. It demonstrates that American democracy is real."

Jets Pose Problem For Pilots

By JOHN F. SEMBOWER

CHICAGO Forecasting that jet and turbo-jet aircraft will revolutionize long distance air line schedules by 1961, a special committee has recommended this week to the Air Line Pilots Association that it demand a reduction of maximum flight time limits for pilots from 85 to 65 hours monthly and six hours daily on the new planes.

Known as the American Airlines Jet Committee on Pay and Working Conditions, the group has studied that air line's future prospects and arrived at conclusions concerning the safety of passengers and pilots.

Round trips from Los Angeles to New York will take 9 hours and 32 minutes in the new Boeing 707 and 12 hours 58 minutes in the new Lockheed Electras, compared with 16 hours in Douglas DC-7's, which are the pride of the present fleet. The flights will be at 30-to-40,000 feet, the association heard at its meeting here.

The circuit from New York to Washington will take only one hour and 20 minutes and one hour and 22 minutes respectively in the new super-airliners, compared with the present two hours and 15 minutes by DC-7's, 2 hours 30 minutes in DC-6's, and 2 hours 40 minutes in Convair 240's.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority has predicted that the domestic trunk airline industry will sell 28.8 billion passenger seat miles by 1961, an increase of 44 per cent over 1955.

One airline has estimated that the industry will sell 34.5 billion passenger seat miles by 1961 for an increase of 73 per cent over 1955. Another line's estimate is for an 86 per cent increase in sales by 1965, while a third has predicted an increase of 100 per cent by 1965.

The pilots' union professes to be worried mostly over the health of its members and passengers rather than over any prospect of "technological unemployment" for pilots because of the impact on schedules of the planes that will fly higher, faster, and farther.

However, the committee warns that "due to the greatly increased productivity of the planes ordered there will be considerable technological unemployment on American commercial airlines by 1961. The estimates of the pilot force for 1961 range from 873 pilots to 1,286 pilots, depending upon the composition of the fleet. Even a reduction of hours to a 65 hour month will not completely alleviate this problem."

On the basis of the committee's preliminary findings that hazards lurk in the "sonics, radiation, respiration and psychology involved in the new craft", the union plans to employ a group of professional medical researchers to conduct a detailed investigation in those fields.

Noise-level problems in jets are important to the future welfare of pilots and passengers, the committee contends on the basis of reports that the "sound pressure produced by jet engines with afterburners are very close to the level which can cause irreversible damage to the unprotected ear at a single brief exposure."

The sound hazards are greater outside the aircraft then in the sound-proofed cabins, according to the committee.

Reporting a study by Cornelius A. Tobias of the University of California concerning cosmic ray radiation at the top of the atmosphere, the committee states that "A pilot flying 1,000 hours per year of 20 hours per week at or below 55,000 feet altitude receives much less radiation than the safe daily dose," but that "less than one year decrease in life span can be expected in pilots exposed to cosmic ray nuclei for 1,000 hours per year."

No studies have yet been made of the hazards from atomic dust which the committee believes it encountered in the atmosphere at the 30,000 to 40,000-foot levels, but the union proposes to undertake them.

A report by Neil D. Warren of the University of California, on "psychological aspects of the jet transport age," indicating that the pilots face problems in the psychological areas with respect to increased fatigue due to increased hazards of operation, will be elaborated upon by the new professional group on technological risks.

Persuasive Salesman

By DAVID BARNETT

The boyish-looking "egghead" who tried to sell the "New Republicanism" to the United States, is now setting up shop to sell the United States to the rest of the world.

Arthur Larson came to the attention of the country and probably of the President because Sherman Adams sent Mr. Larson's book, "A Republican Looks at His Party," to President Eisenhower when the chief executive was recovering from ileitis.

But there are sound reasons, that have nothing to do with the publicity attending the publication of a best seller, for Mr. Larson's appointment as director of the United States Information Agency

The 46-year-old Larson, a tall, wiry man with blue eyes and graying hair, is a lucid writer and a persuasive speaker with a flair for the dramatic. He knows and understands the European theories of the welfare state, theories that are more accepted throughout the world than those associated with the American free enterprise system.

After graduation from Augustana College in Sioux Falls, Mr. Larson went to the University of South Dakota law school and in 1932 won a Rhodes Scholarship. For the next three years at Pember College, Oxford, the student of Roman law and legal history wrote an essay a week for a tutor.

While developing his writing style, Mr. Larson managed to develop enough skill at pulling an oar to make an Oxford crew.

Back in Milwaukee he joined a law firm and began working up his specialty, labor and corporation law.

His pre-Eisenhower government experience included work as an attorney with the Office of Price Administration and as a Scandinavian trade expert with the Foreign Economic Administration.

He returned to Great Britain once for a year to study the British Workmen's compensation laws and its social security system.

He has taught at Cornell, at the University of Tennessee and was dean of the University of Pittsburgh law school.

His comprehensive published works on workmen's compensation brought Mr. Larson to the attention of Secretary Mitchell. Two years age, Mr. Larson was named assistant secretary of labor.

While his technical writings may not indicate qualifications as public relations expert for the country, another book written by Mr. Larson shows he has the essential knack of making complicated things understandable to ordinary people. The book was, "Know Your Social Security," a popular guide to a complicated bread-and-butter field.

In his work during the campaign, "ghost-writing" for the President, Mr. Larson got a broad view of government problems that gives him a head start in his new job.

His home life provides constant reminders that man does not live by bread alone. He plays tennis with his 16-year-old son, Lex, and has a front row seat at household dramatics. His 15-year-old daughter, Anna, is a budding ballet dancer; his wife, the former Forence Newcomb, has been a drama instructor at several colleges. Everybody in the family plays some musical instrument.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

A Letter To Ike

Dear Mr. President: You've won a second term by a landslide and with the campaign and speechmaking over, all Americans, regardless of party, have a special message for you.

It is this: Get all the relaxation you can and forget all those cracks about playing golf. The burdens of a president are always terrific and rarely more backbreaking than today.

You've got to take time out, whenever possible, for a little diversion and most folks will not feel critical if they hear you are getting in a little fun between harassments, and ordeals.

THEY KNOW the all-important thing is your health. They want you to stay in the pink. Republications and Democrats alike realize you will be under a strain such as few rulers in history have known and they are hoping you can get a respite now and then, with or without golf bags.

They elected a man, not an ox or army pack-horse. Their greatest fear now is that you will fail to ease up often enough between fresh world problems.

A LOT OF PEOPLE feel that all those sarcastic cracks about you not "minding the store" may have gotten under your skin and that you may be so sensitive that you will go all-out to be the iron man, on the job 24 hours a day and no time off for good behavior.

They think you may revert to your old pre-repair pit routine of trying to attend to details better left to subordinates. Don't do it, Ike. Cut the dinners, cornerstone layings, dedications and minor burdens like poison.

The really big problems will be rough enough. They would tax the strength of a man of thirty-five who had never been sick in his life and had just won an award as "Mr. Ajax."

YOU'RE A RUGGED BATTLER who has never learned to take it easy. With you its been the old cry, "On the double." But you have got to be in shape for the big ones, now, Ike, and conserve your energies when minor issues are involved.

(I wish your doctors wouldn't give you quite so much rope. They should talk turkey to you and drop the attitude that you are as good as new or that any man can be after two rough illnesses.)

To stay well you will have to get in plenty of relaxation. Not too much golf, because it is always hard for a golfer to know when to stop. Especially if he has had no three-putt greens.

And easy on the White House audiences, midnight oil, golf courses hamburgers, correspondence, prolonged press conferences, minor ceremonials, etc.

In short stay well. Few things are more important to American and to the world.

Yours,
Elmer

THE NOBEL PEACE COMMITTEE could find nobody to whom to award the peace prize this year. . . That's odd. . . We had an idea anybody on the Brooklyn Dodgers was entitled to it on the strength of the last two or three games. . . Reverting to the failure of the Nobel Peace Committee to find a winner we hear the group couldn't get to the meetings because of the heavy firing, and at times had to take cover from the ultimatums.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

There are always those inside labor whose pride is sort of professionally wounded and who take it as a personal insult when the public or a newsman pokes around after the mob has left some union headquarters, official or treasury in debris.

Victor Reisel

That sensitivity will have to end now. None other than George Meany, leader of labor's high command, has said that "the American people have every right to demand and expect labor" to clean out the rackets.

Mr. Meany wrote this in an unpublicized letter the other week. And he added that keeping unions free of racketeering is one of American labor's biggest problems.

The AFL-CIO leader isn't one to waste time or words on a minor issue. It seems to me, therefore, that his letter is conclusive evidence that the mobs are prowling in many areas and are not just confined to one or two unions.

THE AFL-CIO president wrote this letter to one of labor's top vice presidents, the sailors' Joe Curran. It was dated Oct. 23 and probably marks the beginning of a major feud inside labor for it disagreed sharply with Mr. Curran over tactics in the fight on the waterfront mobs.

These are two big men — in stature and prestige — and it would be fascinating to delve deeply into this collision between the immovable object and the irresistible force. But I want to forego all that for the moment to report here a section of the letter Mr. Meany dispatched to Mr. Curran—copies of which were sent to all members of the AFL-CIO high command. It said:

"You must know that the number one problem of the trade union movement is now and always will be, to keep our movement free from influence of any kind which would divert it from its one purpose of building labor conditions and standards, to some other purpose.

"YOU KNOW, of course, that this means labor unions cannot possibly be effective in their work if they are not free—free from outside control of any type — control by government — control by political parties — control by Communists, Fascists or any other dictatorial influence — and they must, to effectively do their job of raising workers standards, above all, be free from corrupt, racket or gangster influence."

This can only mean that he not only meant what he said, but wanted to indicate that the racketeering problem was most pressing at this time.

This part of his letter further said:

"You must know that American public opinion expects labor, to the extent of its ability to do so, to keep its own house clean of such corrupt, racket, gangster influence. And may I say that the American people have every right to demand and expect labor to do this."

THERE IS no doubt that there is great public interest in the assault on decent labor and on industry by a terror machine which has succeeded in using some unions right across the land as cover.

There has been much violence, much bullying and much infringement on the right of the people to the leisurely pursuits of happiness and their daily bread.

Yet despite the expressed sentiment of the topmost spokesman for American labor and despite his description of labor's problem, we have just come through a national campaign with virtually no mention of racketeering — in or outside of labor's ranks. Nothing was said during the campaign although there were bullets as well as ballots in the air and labor men were being shot down.

Now that the votes have been counted it seems fair enough to point out that not even Sen. Kefauver made any mention of this blight on American life.

IT WAS HIS probe of racketeering which projected him into national publicity and eventually the vice-presidential nomination. His files are jampacked with evidence of this criminality.

It could not be that he forgot any of this in the daze of the election campaign. He found time to talk of corruption in government. But not inside labor — of which labor's own president talks quite frankly.

Isn't it time that we all agreed that a crime is a crime even if it's inside labor — and discussion of it isn't intended to put the working people in chains.

ACQUITTED OF CROSS BURNING

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Columbus couple was acquitted Wednesday night by an all-white Municipal Court jury of participating in a cross-burning on the lawn of a Negro neighbor.

1st Hungarian Refugees To Arrive In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first of some 5,000 Hungarian refugees may arrive in this country by late next week.

This was announced Wednesday by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, who said they will be housed temporarily at the Army's Camp Kilmer, N. J.

Last week, President Eisenhower ordered this country's doors opened for up to 5,000 Hungarians who have fled Soviet oppression.

Hagerty said officials who run the refugee relief law have been "just snowed under" by offers from Americans to provide the Hungarians with homes, jobs and other aid.

He said Camp Kilmer has enough barracks and other facilities to handle about 500 refugees in the immediate future. In another month, Hagerty added, the camp will be able to accommodate "several thousand" others.

Hagerty said the refugees would be flown from Europe to McGuire Air Force Base, near Camp Kilmer.

At the Christmas meeting officers for 1957 will be named and two trustees for a four-year term elected.

The nominating committee is comprised of Miss Estelle Mayerhofer, Miss Mary Caldwell, and Miss Helen French.

An 1889-90 city directory was donated to the society by Mrs. Vera Sohl; and four bound volumes of St. Nicholas Magazine were presented to the group by Mrs. Dillon Crist of Alliance and her niece, Mrs. William Malloy of Sevakeen Lake.

Lausche Asks Legislature For Utilities Seizure Bill

GOP Legislators Skeptical Of Governor's Strike Proposal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republican leaders of the Legislature appear skeptical of Gov. Frank J. Lausche's proposal for emergency powers to seize and operate public utilities hit by strikes.

Lausche Wednesday called a special session of the Legislature for Nov. 26 to consider the proposal. He abandoned plans to ask the Legislature to outlaw utility strikes and compel arbitration of grievances.

Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens), Senate majority leader, said: "I told him (Lausche) that I think it will be a hard thing to pass a (utility seizure) bill of that type and importance at a special session."

House Speaker Roger Cloud (R-Logan) said he thinks "such legislation can be written" but did not know if there are "constitutional defects." He said the Virginia law, on which the Ohio law would be based, has not been tested as to constitutionality.

Cloud said he thought "there should be something done to protect the public on its utility services." He said he and Mechem were considering "something along this line" for the regular session next year.

Lausche announced the special session after a conference with legislative leaders, state officials and members of a Portsmouth law and order committee.

His action stemmed from attempts to end a strike against Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. The strike began last July 5. Portsmouth and surrounding Scioto County on the Ohio River have been without telephone service since Oct. 16 when the company closed its exchanges there after rock-throwing incidents.

The striking Communications Workers of America has denied responsibility for strike violence.

Meanwhile, both company and union representatives are attending hearings here before a National Labor Relations Board examiner on the issue of whether to allow supervisory personnel in the union. Both sides agreed to have the NLRB settle that issue.

Ohio Supreme Court Judge James F. Bell postponed until sometime next week a hearing on a legal writ connected with restoration of emergency telephone service in the Portsmouth area.

The state utilities commission had called a hearing, asking the company to show why emergency service should not be restored. The company declined to attend the hearing and asked the high court for a writ of prohibition. The court granted a temporary writ blocking the commission's move. The hearing next week will be on whether the writ should be made permanent.

The union has agreed to submit to its members any offer made by the company covering all issues in dispute. A company spokesman said Ohio Consolidated would have no immediate comment on the proposal.

PURCHASE SCHOOL SITE

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Purchase of a 10-acre tract on East River Rd., north of the Hamilton Water plant, as site for a new $785,000 elementary school was announced Wednesday by the Fairfield Board of Education. The school will accommodate 700 pupils.

Policemen To Tell of Alleged Confession

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two top police officers were called as witnesses today as the state sought to substantiate Robert V. Lyons' purported confession that he fatally stabbed Mrs. Audrey Evers Pugh, 34-year-old society matron.

Lyons, 43, is on trial for first degree murder. Mrs. Pugh's body was found in her Hyde Park home last April 11 by her husband, William, head of a printing firm.

Prosecutor C. Watson Hover said that the first two state witnesses today would be Detective Chief Henry Sandman and Lt. Charles Martin, chief of the homicide bureau.

They will be questioned further on Lyons' purported confession, which he later repudiated.

Lyons' attorney, William F. Hopkins, quoted his client as saying that Detectives Eugene Moore and Wilbert Stagenhorst cajoled him into making the 27-page statement. The detectives, according to the attorney, gave Lyons their "facts" and forced him to say them.

Common Pleas Judge Carson Hoy admitted the disputed statement to evidence Wednesday.

The statement quoted Lyons as saying that when he "pounded on the door and hollered, 'Water man,' at the Pugh home that April day, Mrs. Pugh answered:

" 'Don't come down here. . . . Come up to the little door next to the garage door and ring the bell.' "

When he complied with her instructions, according to the statement, Mrs. Pugh said, "Don't make a fool of yourself," three times.

"So," Lyons was quoted, "I go up to find out how I was making a fool of myself."

He then said, the statement related, that he met Mrs. Pugh in the kitchen, that she had a paring knife in her hand and he struggled with her for possession of it.

"I got the knife away and she slapped me. . . I lunged at her with the knife," he was quoted.

Then Lyons was asked, according to the statement, "how many times he used the knife."

Lyons' reply was given as "I can't remember that."

Lyons was among the first suspects questioned in the slaying, but was soon freed. He was taken into custody 45 days later and charged with the murder May 26, after two days of intensive questioning by detectives.

E. Liverpool Attorney Wins $1,829 Lawsuit

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury Tuesday awarded $1,829.98 plus interest and costs to Atty. Raymond S. Buzzard for fees for legal services.

Buzzard had sued William Azdell of East Liverpool for the amount after the defendant failed to pay him for legal services.

The jury included: Hazel Costello and Nellie Blake of East Liverpool; Lewis Putt of Wellsville; Anna Everhart, Bernice Melitschka, Hazel Painchaud and Mary Louise Denkhous of Salem; Ava Brockman and Emily Hughes of East Palestine; Velma Cope and Paul Kuhns of Lisbon; George Schmidt of New Waterford.

Ontario, a Canadian inland province noted for its freshwater fishing, also has 600 miles of salt water coastline on Hudson Bay.

Men Can't Talk Women Into Going On Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Fifteen men took a trimming Wednesday from 22 lady employes of a hand embroidery plant when the males tried to needle them into going on strike.

The men, members of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, invaded the shop on West 25th Street and told the women:

"Strike—everybody out!"

Then the lady employes went into action. With screams, brooms, chairs and other improvised weapons they went to work on the men. The males retreated in confusion.

An ILGWU spokesman said the union had been trying to organize the shop, but denied any attempts at intimidation.

The Citizens' Bank sent out 500 checks for a total of $42,304, an increase of $3,500 over a year ago. Opening of new accounts for the ensuing 12 months is available at both banks.

Both institutions have been showing a healthy growth in their volumes of business every year.

The Citizens' Bank has had under way for several months an extensive remodeling project which will double the space in its banking quarters. The work was delayed for some time by the non-arrival of structural steel.

Negroes Vote To Conclude Bus Boycott

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Negro bus boycott that became a symbol of mass resistance to racial segregation was voted to an end Wednesday night at the church where it was born 34 days before.

An estimated 5,500-hymn-singing persons crowded into the Holt Street Baptist Church to vote thunderously for an end to the Montgomery boycott.

The Negroes decided to return to city buses as soon as the U. S. Supreme Court's decision that bus segregation is unconstitutional goes into effect.

Their leader, the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., told the cheering throng that the decision should reach Montgomery courts in several days. He urged calmness and restraint when it comes.

Until then, boycotters at the church and at a similar meeting on the other side of town agreed unanimously, they will walk to work or shares rides with friends.

Manager J. H. Bagley of Montgomery City Lines, Inc., whose bus patronage dropped by more than 30,000 a day during the boycott, said drivers would continue to enforce segregation until formally relieved of the state-prescribed duty.

The Montgomery City Commission has made no comment.

The boycott began the day a Negro seamstress was fined $14 for refusing to move to the rear of a bus.

Strike Shuts Down Truscon Division

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Republic Steel Corp.'s Truscon Division was still idle today, shut down by a wildcat strike that both union and management have said was unauthorized.

The strike started Monday night.

The company has said it will not negotiate the issue until the strikers go back to work.

Evil Beauty Contests

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Beauty contests," said Anita Ekberg, "are a terrible evil.

"I don't like them. I never have."

This sounded almost as heretical as if the late J. P. Morgan were to denounce gold. After all Miss Ekberg's own stepping-stone to Hollywood stardom had been the winning of a contest to pick a "Miss Sweden."

"Yes," she admitted, "but it was the only one I ever entered, and I did so only because my mother urged me to. I already was a top model."

What's so evil about beauty contests?

"Everything," said Miss Ekberg. "Many of them are such nonsense. They pick a 'Miss Fender of 1955' or a 'Miss Washing Machine of 1956.' But what does it mean?

"Usually they always look for the wrong kind of girl in beauty contests. They want the—how do you say it—pretty next-door girl, the sweet, innocent, nothing-at-all girls.

"This kind of a girl is ruined by winning a beauty contest. She doesn't have the drive, ambition, talent or courage to make a career.

"But her head has been turned. She is afraid she will drop out of notice, so she is willing to do anything rather than go back home and live as she did before.

"She listens to men who tell her they can help her get ahead in show business. Often these men have no connection with show business at all. You know what they really want?"

"No, tell me," I said, cupping both hands to my ears to hear her next words better.

"They simply want a date with a pretty girl so they can show their friends what a bigshot they are," said Miss Ekberg. I dropped my hands.

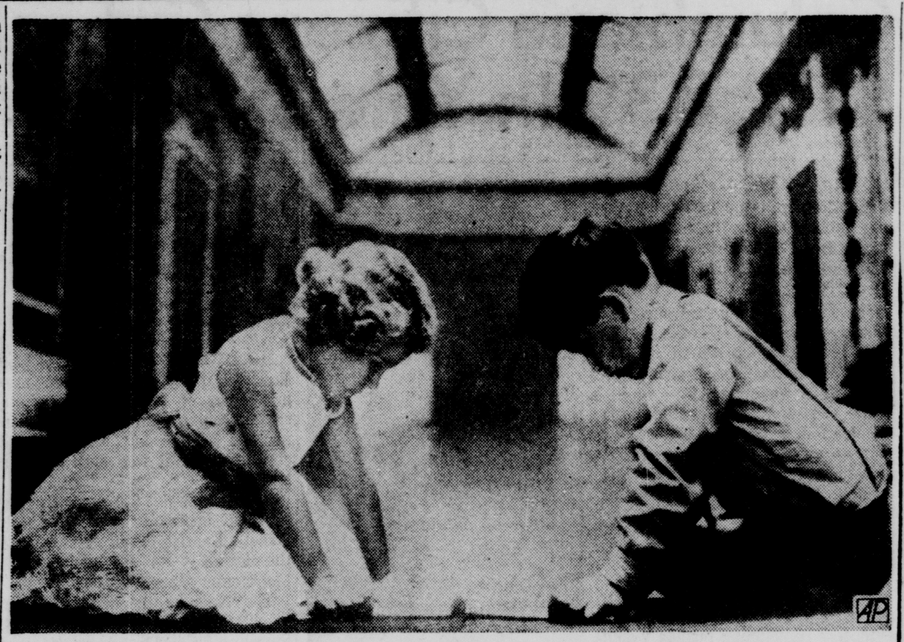

Anita said even beauty contest winners who land starlet contracts are little better off.

"A starlet gets walk-on parts to save the studio the cost of hiring another extra," she remarked. "But she is also expected to help entertain distinguished visitors.

"She is like a hostess in a restaurant where the girls have to drink with the customers. She is afraid not to do everything the studio asks her to, because she is afraid of losing that $250 a week. But usually she does anyway, and then what is left for her?"

Miss Ekberg, who is known as "the blonde iceberg" and has a bigger silhouette than Marilyn Monroe, is a graduate of the starlet system herself.

Her seventh and latest film, "Zarak," produced for Columbia Pictures and co-starring Victor Mature and Michael Wilding, gives her the first real opportunity to unveil her statuesque charm. She plays a native dancer who becomes the fourth wife of a tribal chief, "but I hate every minute of it, and then I fall in love with the chief's oldest son, Victor Mature and—." It's a real life drama.

PRINCE CHARLES IS EIGHT—Prince Charles Philip Arthur George, Duke of Cornwall, and heir apparent to the British throne, relaxes over a book with his sister, Princess Anne Elizabeth Louise, 6, in picture gallery of Buckhingham Palace in London. E. Liverpool Woman Files $25,519 Suit

LISBON — A suit for $25,519 for personal injuries and damages allegedly stemming from an auto-truck accident was filed in Common Pleas Court Wednesday by Elizabeth Pearl Jones of East Liverpool.

The Delong Trucking Co. and John K. Dunmire, both of Bedford, were named defendants.

Elizabeth Jones claims in the petition that Aug. 12, 1955 at 7:10 p.m. her car was stopped on Dresden Ave. at the corner of 9th St. waiting for the light to change when it was struck from the rear by a truck driven by John K. Dunmire who was employed by the Delong Trucking Co. The plaintiff claims she suffered injuries in the accident.

CONSTRUCTION SETS RECORD

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Construction of new dwellings here the first 10 months of 1956 exceeded any full year in Hamilton's history. City Building Commissioner Fred Hardy said, that through October, 347 permits were issued for construction costing $4,094,830. Best previous year was 313 permits for $4,035,652 in 1955.

Chief Clearwater say:

"River water good for barges ... well water best for beer"

When you drink a sparkling glass of cool beer, you are actually drinking water that has been uniquely flavored by the ancient brewing process. Isn't it natural, then, that the quality of the water has a big effect on the quality of the beer?

It certainly does, and that's one reason why chemically treated river water is considered unsuitable for beer by the Fort Pitt Brewing Company. We don't use it. And Fort Pitt is the only Pittsburgh beer brewed with pure artesian well water. Try a case today.

FORT PITT—that's it!

State To Get Bids On Huge Mental Hygiene Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state department of mental hygiene and correction expects to begin receiving bids next month on about 22 million dollars in projects to start bringing its services up to par.

Included are buildings at Columbus State School, Apple Creek State Hospital, Hawthornden State Hospital, Cleveland Receiving Hospital, Juvenile Diagnostic Center at Columbus, Dayton State Hospital, Toledo State Hospital, Tiffin State Hospital, Cambridge State Hospital, Gallipolis State Institute, Longview State Hospital at Cincinnati, Marion Correctional Institution, Boys Industrial School at Lancaster, Girls Industrial School at Delaware, Dayton Childrens Receiving Hospital and Cleveland State Hospital.

Dr. E. Earl Albrecht, acting department director, said construction will begin in the spring and that the department now is planning projects to be built later on.

Architects already have been selected for 23 more projects that represent a total of $27,590,000 in new facilities that will be started within a two-year period. The projects will be financed with funds from the 150-million-dollar bond issue for public buildings that voters approved last fall.

These projects still are subject to approval by the Legislature and its Capital Planning and Improvement Board, after plans are drawn.

Included in the projects are two phases of a new reformatory at Lebanon in southern Ohio. They will cost $7,600,000 and the entire medium security institution, when built, will cost 11 million dollars.

The 23 projects also include:

An auditorium and chapel for the Marion Correctional Institution to cost $400,000; a $1,560,000 medical and surgical unit and a regional service unit to cost $700,000 for Columbus institutions; an $840,000 reception and treatment unit at Columbus State Hospital; a statewide hospital at Columbus, for mentally-ill with tuberculosis, to cost $2,600,000.

A $750,000 centralized food preparation and service unit at Orient State Institute; a $200,000 central power plant and $150,000 addition to the medical and surgical building at Tiffin State Hospital; utility lines for the new Dayton Receiving Hospital and other construction to cost $200,000; a psychogeriatric building (for the aged mentally ill) at Dayton State Hospital to cost $845,000.

Completion of the rehabilitation and training unit at Apple Creek State Hospital at a cost of $400,000; an $840,000 reception and treatment center at Longview State Hospital; a new children's psychiatric hospital in northeast Ohio to cost $1,700,000.

Receiving and training unit at Rollman Receiving Hospital and State Institute of Psychiatry at Cincinnati to cost $650,000; an $850,000 reception and treatment unit and an $845,000 building for the aged mentally ill at Hawthornden State Hospital; a $750,000 medical and surgical unit at Toledo State Hospital; a $440,000 addition to Summit County Receiving Hospital.

A medium security institution in central Ohio for boys 15 to 18 to cost $3,350,000; a day care school and residential building for the mentally deficient, location undetermined, to cost $1,120,000; and a central food preparation and service unit at Massillon State Hospital to cost $800,000.

45,000 Persons Own Acre Of Land Needed For Road

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — The Oklahoma Highway Department may have to get signatures of 45,000 persons who own a portion of one acre of land needed as a highway right-of-way near Anadarko.

Sold in two-square inch lots at $1 per lot, the land was used to raise funds to construct an amphitheater.

Wes Wyatt, president of the Redman Land Co. which sold the tiny lots, quoted highway representatives as saying a quit claim deed signed by him and a "dedication deed" by the former owner might clear the property for the state purchase.

Elizabeth Taylor Seeks 2nd Divorce

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Screen star Elizabeth Taylor, suing for her second divorce, and producer Mike Todd, who gave her a big diamond, took a Florida break today from film chores.

"I may never work again," Miss Taylor said when she and Todd flew to Miami from New York.

Tonight they planned to attend a Southern premiere of "Around the World in 80 days," a Todd production. They said they hoped to get a "few days of rest" in the Miami area.

Todd, 48, said he did not know when he planned to marry Miss Taylor, 24. "She hasn't asked me yet," he added. He called his gift "a friendship ring."

Miss Taylor sued British actor Michael Wilding for divorce Wednesday at Santa Monica, Calif. She charged mental cruelty. The actress asked custody of their two children, Michael, 3½, and Christopher, 1½, and $250 a month for their support. She waived alimony but a property settlement dated July 27 will give her a large, undisclosed amount.

GIVEN STIFF SENTENCE

LISBON — Joseph H. Chestnut of Lisbon RD 2 was fined $350 and costs and sentenced to 10 days in jail at a hearing Wednesday before Mayor Wilbur Warren on a charge of driving while intoxicated. This was his third offense, police said.

Ex-Convict Tells His Story Of How Riesel Was Blinded

NEW YORK (AP)—An ex-convict, confessed conspirator in the acid attack on Victor Riesel, has detailed his version of a slain hoodlum's story of how the labor columnist was blinded for a $500 fee.

Joseph Peter Carlino, who pleaded guilty to helping plot the acid attack on Riesel last April 5, testified Wednesday for the prosecution before a federal jury of eight men and four women.

Carlino was the first witness in the trial of Domenico Bando, Leo Telvi and Gondolfo (Sheikie) Miranti. Four others, including labor racketeer John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi, will be tried later in the case.

Throughout his testimony, Carlino referred to "the boys uptown," whom he did not identify.

The government said Wednesday it would not try to prove Bando, Leo Telvi and Miranti plotted the attack, but only that they helped get Abe Telvi out of town on orders from "the bosses uptown."

The trio on trial, as well as the four others to be tried later, all were indicted on two counts: one of conspiracy to interfere with a federal grand jury by blinding a prospective witness, and another of conspiring to conceal the existence of the alleged conspiracy, harbor Abe Telvi and cause his unlawful flight to avoid prosecution. The three are being tried on the latter count.

The federal grand jury was investigating rackets in the trucking and the garment manufacturing industries.

O'Neill Plans To Stretch Taxes

To Borrow Business Accounting Practices

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Outlook for Ohio's state government:

More management and accounting practices borrowed from business.

More "belt-tightening" to make available funds stretch farther.

New taxes? Maybe.

Those were the standout points Wednesday as Gov.-elect C. William O'Neill and a panel of legislative leaders discussed 1957 legislative prospects before the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants.

Declared the Republican governor-elect:

"We are going to bring into government the same accounting and management practices as in business . . . . It will take courage to resist the tremendous pressures for the expenditure of money. The level of expenditures is now closer to anticipated revenues than at any other time."

House Speaker Roger Cloud (R-Logan):

"Unless there are curtailments, we could reach the place where we would be spending more than we receive. The question of financing the services required in the state will be one of the big problems in the next session."

Cloud also pointed out it might be possible to avoid new taxes in the next session by eliminating stamps in applying the state sales tax. This could possibly add 10 million dollars a year to the state treasury.

He also spoke of increasing Ohio's corporate franchise tax from one to two-tenths of one per cent—another 10 million a year saving.

Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens), Senate majority leader, promised full cooperation with the new governor.

He said he had heard talk of proposed laws to ban trading stamps and for strict enforcement of Sunday closing laws. The Nelsonville shoe merchant added: "But retailers can rest assured that we will get a fair deal."

Senate Minority Leader Joseph W. Bartunek (D-Cuyahoga) said: "I hope that we will meet our needs without new taxes, but I don't think so . . . . Before we enact new tax laws, we should examine the rebates."

Rep. A. G. Lancione (D-Belmont), a ranking House member, said state laws now require stores to close on Sundays, but are not enforced. He agreed with Bartunek that stores should be allowed to open on Sundays and added that present laws are so strict that, if enforced, 3.2 beer could not be sold on Sunday.

Lancione pointed to Ohio's growing bonded indebtedness, which will increase because of the Korean bonus approved last week, and commented: "It now costs more for interest to retire bonds than it did to run the state government a few years ago."

Amvet Auxiliary Sets Benefit Supper Dec. 8

A benefit spaghetti supper was planned for 9 p.m. Dec. 8 at the Amvet Post home when the Auxiliary met Tuesday evening.

The members voted to give a donation to the Brecksville Veterans Administration Hospital Christmas Gift shop.

The state executive committee meeting will be held Nov. 25 at the Manger Hotel in Cleveland.

Announcement was made that parade dresses have been ordered. Mrs. Donald Smith reported on the recent benefit.

Mrs. Howard Krause, Mrs. Robert Shoe and Mrs. Melvin Wukotich were named to plan the Christmas dinner party.

Marine Admits He Mistreated Recruits

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP) — Marine Pfc. Frederick A. Renton, accused of more than a dozen cases of striking and maltreating recruits at this sprawling Marine base, pleaded guilty at his court-martial trial Wednesday to two specifications to the charges against him.

Several more charges remained against the 19-year-old New York City youth as the trial entered its second day.

Renton admitted forcing privates Robert A. Palaisa and Clement R. Ploof Jr. to suspend themselves on their elbows and toes while the point of a bayonet was held under their stomachs.

Renton was accused of holding the bayonet himself in the case of Palaisa while another recruit, Edward R. Juneau Jr., allegedly was forced to do it in the case of Ploof.

Another trainee, Joseph W. Androlowicz, testified that he beat another recruit on the instigation of Renton.

Negotiators Study Mayor's Plan To End Newspaper Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Negotiators report to Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze today whether his proposal for a wage settlement will get Cleveland's three big daily newspapers back in production.

The mayor suggested a set of figures Wednesday to negotiators of the Cleveland Newspaper Guild and of the management of the three papers — Cleveland Press, Cleveland Plain Dealer and Cleveland News—idle since the morning of Nov. 1.

He said negotiators will report back to him at 3:30 p. m. today whether management and the guild will accept the proposal. Federal Mediator A.A. Desser also will be at the mayor's office to hear the reports.

Guild-represented employes of the three papers will meet at 2 p.m. today to consider the proposal and advise their negotiating committee.

Terms of the proposed agreement were not announced. Neither management nor the guild has commented on wage figures since their representatives started meeting in the mayor's office Nov. 7.

Today marked the 15th day that residents of this industrial area have been without their familiar hometown papers. Out - of - town newspapers, a guild newspaper called the Cleveland Reporter and increased news coverage by local radio and television stations have helped keep Clevelanders informed of events here and in the rest of the world.

The guild struck the Press when its contracts with all three newspapers expired at midnight, Oct. 31.

The News and Plain Dealer, both published by Forest City Publishing Co., stopped operation after union truck drivers refused to handle newspapers bearing the name of the struck Press and also names of the News and Plain Dealer.

Management of the two Forest City papers said the drivers' action caused the papers to pile up on the loading docks and made it necessary to stop production.

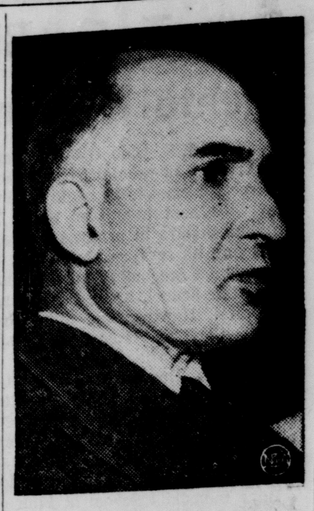

The guild represents some 400 editorial and commercial employees of the Press and about 300 employes at the News and Plain Dealer.

At the time it struck the Press, the guild was asking wage increases of $9 to $12.50 weekly spread over a two-year contract.

The last management offer made public came shortly before the picket lines went up at the Press and was for $3 to $6 raises this year and $2.50 to $4.50 next year. The guild said the offer was made unofficially through a federal mediator.

Under the old contracts, newsmen with five years' experience had a minimum weekly rate of $122.50 weekly.

Mickey Mantle Unanimous Choice as Most Valuable Player

Yank Star Won 'Triple Crown'

Berra Is 2nd, Kaline Picked For 3rd Spot

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—If Mickey Mantle needs any ammunition for his $50,000 salary bid, he can point to his unanimous election as Most Valuable Player in the American League.

Only once before has a player placed first on the ballots of all 24 members of the Baseball Writers Assn. selection committee, three from each league city. Al Rosen of Cleveland did it in 1953.

Mantle's selection was a foregone conclusion when he swept the triple batting crown with a .353 average, 130 runs batted in and 52 home runs.

Actually the 25-year-old New York Yankee center fielder won the "triple crown" of the majors. His marks were higher than corresponding figures in the National. The last to lead both leagues in all three divisions was Ted Williams of Boston in 1942.

It was Mantle's first MVP award in the greatest of his six seasons at Yankee Stadium. In addition to his three big victories, Mantle topped both leagues in runs scored, 132, and slugging percentage, .705.

A threat to Babe Ruth's all-time homer record of 60 set in 1927, Mantle finally lost out due to an extended slump in September.

Mantle's sweep and the solid second-place vote for teammate Yogi Berra emphasized again the ease with which the Yanks won the pennant.

The point total, figured on the basis of 12 for first, 9 for second and so on down to 1 for tenth, found Mantle with a maximum 226 points to 186 for Berra.

The first 10:

1.	Mickey Mantle, New York	336
2.	Yogi Berra, New York	186
3.	Al Kaline, Detroit	142
4.	Harvey Kuenn, Detroit	80
5.	Billy Pierce, Chicago	75
6.	Ted Williams, Boston	70
7.	Bob Nieman, Baltimore	55
8.	Gil McDouglad, N.Y. tie	55
9.	Vic Wertz, Cleveland	45
10.	Bob Lemon, Cleveland	40

Others receiving points:

Harry Simpson, Kansas City, 37; Whitey Ford, New York, 33; Early Wynn, Cleveland, 32; Jim Piersall, Boston, and Nellie Fox, Chicago, 28; Sherm Lollar, Chicago, 27; Frank Lary, Detroit, and Pete Runnels, Washington, 24; Herb Score, Cleveland, 18; Jackie Jensen, Boston, 15; Mickey Vernon, Boston, 14; Tom Brewer, Boston, 11. Hank Bauer, New York, and Charlie Maxwell, Detroit, 8; Luis Aparicio, Chicago, 7; Gus Triandos, Baltimore, 6; Frank Bolling, Detroit; Minnie Minoso, Chicago, and Vic Power, Kansas City, 3; Johnny Kucks, New York, 2 and Roy Sievers, Washington, 1.

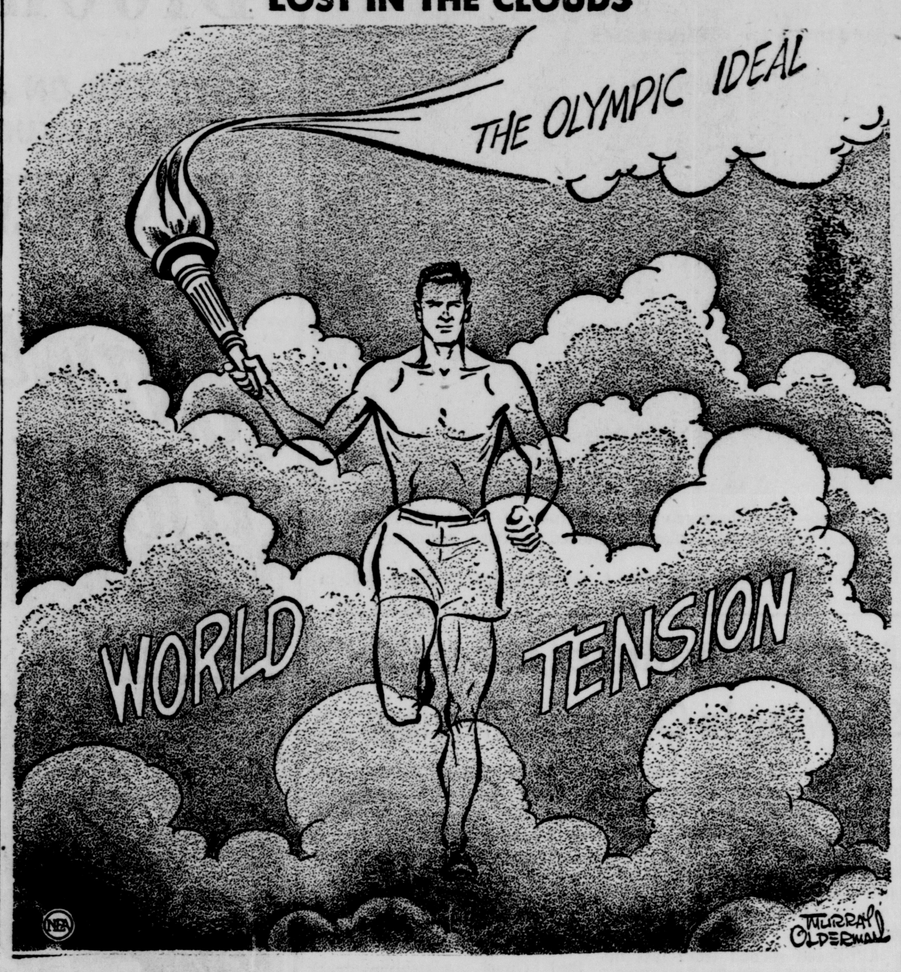

Myatt Named Coach; Cubs Complete Staff

CHICAGO (AP) —George Myatt, 41, a coach for the Chicago White Sox the past two seasons, today was named to the same job with the Chicago Cubs, completing new manager Bob Scheffing's staff.

Scheffing's other assistants include Ray Mueller and Freddie Fitzsimmons, selected since a Cub housecleaning last month swept out the entire old staff.

Myatt, former infielder for the Washington Senators, was a Senator coach from 1950 through 1954. He joined the White Sox in 1955 under manager Marty Marion, who recently "resigned" from the Pale Hose.

Oregon State's Witte Is Lineman Of Week

CORVALLIS, Ore., (AP)— John Witte, a budding wrestler who at 232 pounds can run faster than some ball - carriers, is the Associated Press lineman of the week.

If you haven't yet seen Witte in action, you may on New Year's Day in the Rose Bowl game.

For it was Witte's play in the crucial game against Stanford last week that gave Oregon State the inside track to a Rose Bowl appearance and won him the Lineman-of-the-Week award.

A 6-foot, 2-inch tackle from Klamath Falls, Ore., he opened the holes that made it possible for Oregon State to overcome a two-touchdown deficit and nose out Stanford, 20-19.

Now Oregon state needs only a victory over Idaho or Oregon in its remaining Pacific Coast Conference games to sew up the Rose Bowl bid.

Witte took his selection with his usual quiet. He said he was "very proud," and that it was "recognition that every lineman in the country hopes for."

Witte, at 23, is older than his teammates because military service interrupted his college career. A standout as a sophomore in 1952, he came back to OSC last year to win honors as a tackle on the All-Coast team and the All-America third team.

Much faster than most big men, he has several times this season broken through the line, set out after an end-running ball carrier and hauled him down from behind for losses.

Man Dies While Rooting For Son In Grid Game

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Death tapped R. W. Vollmer as he sat in the stands rooting for his 14-year-old son, a junior high halfback, to make a touchdown. Vollmer 49, an avid football fan, was stricken seconds before halfback Russell Vollmer plunged over for the score.

GOOD CATCH BY FOOTBALL FISHERMAN — Football booted by Chicago Bears' George Blanda for point-after-touchdown in third period is caught by alert fence-sitter in bleachers at Wrigley Field in Chicago. The youth, one of several who came equipped with a net, makes a perfect catch with his long-poled net to assure himself a souvenir. Bears beat the Green Bay Packers, 38-14. Midwest Has 3 All America End Hopefuls

By BOB HOOBING
The Associated Press

When three ends like Ron Kramer, Frank Gilliam and Lamar Lundy show up in the same conference it is bound to cause headaches for the All America football selectors.

The Big Ten wingmen are mentioned prominently in the latest recommendations by the Associated Press regional A-A boards. But what of the other areas?

Joe Walton of Pittsburgh, Walt Brodie of William and Mary, South Carolina's Buddy Frick, Stanford's Carl Isaacs and Bill Steiger of Washington State are just a few of the other names who deserve top consideration according to the reports.

Kramer, the rough, touch flankman who does everything well for Michigan, provided the margin of victory over Iowa with a field goal which may still boot the Wolverines into the Rose Bowl.

The Midwest board reports that Gilliam of Iowa continues to be a "money player." The first of his two fumble recoveries led to the lone touchdown that upset Minnesota last week.

Lundy? The 6-6 Purdue giant is not only an exceptional pass receiver but didn't allow powerful Michigan State more than 10 yards total on all plays run anywhere near him. He was a major reason the Spartans had trouble managing a 12-9 decision.

No guard in the country is receiving more support than giant 245 pound Jim Parker of Ohio State who opens the door for the nation's No. 2 ground gaining team and keys the defense.

Bill Glass of Baylor, Allen Ecker of Georgia Tech, Esker Harris of UCLA and Sam Valentine of Penn State also are in the front ranks.

Board members from the far west insist the Pacific slopes contain a pair of tackles the equal of any — Paul Wiggin of Stanford, a 1955 selection, and Oregon State's John Witte, named Lineman - of - the - week for his play against the Indians Saturday.

Alex Karras of Iowa and Lou Michaels of Kentucky are prominent names.

Oklahoma's great Jerry Tubbs, Jim Matheny of UCLA who anchores a surprisingly tough Bruin forward wall and Mike Hudock of Miami top the candidates for honors at center.

Mantle Says He Has Lot Of Time For Records

COMMERCE, Okla. (AP) —Brushing aside all the ballyhood about chasing Babe Ruth's record 60 home runs, New York Yankee slugger Mickey Mantle says "I've still got plenty of time."

But, even Mantle admits he will be hard pressed to top the 1956 season in which he hit 52 home runs, batted .353 and accounted for 130 runs batted in. The batting triple crown Wednesday earned the quiet spoken Mantle the American League's most valuable award.

Was Mantle surprised over the selection?

"I sorta figured I would win it," he said Wednesday night. "But, it's still a big thrill. It makes me real proud."

NCAA Penalized OSU On Three Counts

DETROIT (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. says probation status for all Ohio State University athletic teams was based on a three-count finding.

A statement issued Wednesday said the findings were:

1. Emergency loans and gifts to football players.

2. Irregularities in the work program for football players.

3. The offer of the head basketball coach of aid to a prospective player.

In Ohio's capital city, the Columbus Dispatch said: "The athlete involved (in the basketball base) is believed to have been Mike Allen, celebrated all - Ohio center from New Lexington, who quit the Bucks for the University of Dayton last winter. The NCAA charge had nothing to do with the flareup between OSE's Coach Floyd Stahl and Dayton's Tom Blackburn over Allen's transfer."

Clark Sauer intercepted a Northwestern pass in 1910 and ran 105 yards for a Chicago touchdown. He did the same thing and for the same yardage one year later, but against Indiana.

SITTING OUT — Puck Van Duyne Brouwer, Dutch star, doesn't appear to feel too badly about flying all the way to Melbourne only to find out that she could not compete in the Olympics. Holland withdrew.

Poorer Midwest Teams Boast Some All-America Candidates

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — The victor's spoils in football invariably include All-America honors, but the midwest has some solid contenders for such recognition laboring for buffeted teams.

For instance, take quarterback Paul Hornung of Notre Dame (1-6). Or Len Dawson, quarterback, and Lamar Lundy, end, of Purdue (2-3-2). Or tiny halfback Bob McKeiver of Northwestern (2-4-1). Or fleet halfback Abe Woodson of Illinois (2-4-1).

The midwest selection board for the AP's honor team has taken cognizance of Hornung's No. 2 ranking among the nation's total offense leaders with 1,102 yards on 164 plays.

"Hornung is not most of Notre Dame's football team, he is the Notre Dame team," said board member George Strickler of the Chicago Tribune.

Dawson, although he missed the Michigan State game last Saturday because of injury, also has statistical support with No. 1 ranking Big Ten passing and No. 8 in the nation.

The midwest board also appreciates the fact that Woodson, running for a losing team, is the nation's 10th best rusher with 601 yards on 108 carries.

Lundy was the standout defensive performer on the field last Saturday as Michigan State, the nation's No. 3 team in the AP poll, scraped a 12-9 victory over Purdue.

McKeiver, a 5 foot 5, 160-pounder, is a wonder of the Big Ten. He has averaged almost 5-yards per try rushing, averaged 40 yards on 25 punts and does just about everything except sell programs during a game.

The top drawer teams in this area? of course, all have strong All-America contenders.

Still regarded the midwest's best football player is end Ron Kramer of Michigan. Not far behind is Ohio State's big guard, Jim Parker. Iowa has quarterback Ken Pleen and tackle Alex Karras leading a balanced team.

Michigan State still highly regards halfback Clarence Peaks, although injury benched him after five games, and Spartan center Johnny Matsko is a fine player. Minnesota's agile tackle, Bob Hobert, can't be counted out.

When you get back to statistics, Ohio State has two surging backs hard to beat, Don Clark, sixth best rusher in the nation and Jim Roseboro, ninth best. And Purdue's ripping fullback, Mel Dillard, ranks No. 7.

The midwest board members include Strickler; Joe Falls, Detroit Times; John Harrington, Chicago WBBM, Gordy Graham, La Fayette, Ind., Journal Courier; Dick Cullum, Minneapolis Tribune; Si Burick, Dayton, Ohio, News; Gus Schrader, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Gazette; and Henry J. C. McCormick, Wisconsin State Journal, Madison, Wis.

Kenny Lane Scores Win Over Ryff

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Jack Kearns is beating the drums for an early lightweight title bout for his boy Kenny Lane, and the crafty old manager said he had $75,000 in cash with which to lure the champion, Joe Brown.

"This showed Lane is championship caliber," Kearns said last night after his battler from Muskegon, Mich., had taken a unanimous decision over Frankie Ryff of New York.

"I've got $755,000 for a guarantee to Brown if he'll fight Lane for the title in Miami Stadium in February. I'm going to get his managers on the phone and I'm sure they'll be interested."

Lane, the No. 5 lightweight contender in the Ring magazine ratings, stung Ryff with solid southpaw blows to the head and body and was in command all the way. Ryff tried to take the offensive but there was no question after the seventh, when he was staggered by a left to the head, that he was a beaten fighter.

The defeat may have brought Ryff's career to an end. Once No. 3 in the lightweight ratings, he dropped out after Larry Boardman stopped him last summer in New York.

Judge Sam Margolis and referee Billy Regan gave Lane a 97-95 margin over Ryff in the nationally televised fight. Judge Jerry Sherrard voted it 98-92. It was 98-95 on the Associated Press card.

Lane weighed 138¼, Ryff 140.

Wilson said the U. S. delegation "admire your preparations and we are glad to be entered in the type of competition where the only rewards are symbols.

County Schools Near Top Of State Football Ratings

By MARK MILLER

Columbiana County is well represented in the Associated Press poll of outstanding football teams in the state.

East Palestine and East Liverpool are classed in 11th and 16th places, respectively, in the poll. Leetonia occupies the 75th slot.

The Bulldogs and the Potters are Class AA schools, and the Bears are Class A.

The Bears lost only to the Bulldogs, and were tied by the Lisbon Blue Devils in another contest (these two schools are both Class AA.) Mancuso says his team will meet any team that has a legitimate claim for the state championship, otherwise the title belongs in Leetonia.

Besides being ranked among the top schools in the state, East Palestine has set two new school records. The team is the first undefeated and untied team in the history of the school, and its scoring total of 329 points for one season is an all-time high. The previous record of 268 points was set in 1952.

BULLDOG CAPTAIN Jim Lindner, senior, scored four touchdowns and three extra points in the crushing 61-0 victory over Columbiana Friday night for a personal season total of 190 points, scored in all nine contests played. He is the number two scorer in the state.

Leetonia's Bears also displayed a fine running back in right halfback Bob Peet who scored 17 touchdowns and three extra points for a season total of 105 points. Peet scored in eight out of nine games.

East Liverpool, which plays probably the toughest schedule in the county, has rolled to seven victories, while losing two by the sum total of three points. The Potters may be headed toward a new school scoring record for one season. The old record was established in 1952 when the team scored 393 points. This season the Potters have scored 372 points. They play host to the Alliance Aviators Friday night.

TOP SCORER FOR the Potters is Jack Dopler, who plays left halfback. Jack has scored 22 touchdowns for a total of 132 points so far this season.

Fairfield-Waterford, playing 11-man football for the first time in the history of the school, has completed a successful season, winning seven and losing only one game. The team scored 169 points and limited its opponents to 44 points.

QUAKERS HAVE THREE LETTERMEN—These three returning lettermen, (l. to r.) Jim Meissner, Mark Fenton and John Stephenson, along with 39 other players, started practice yesterday afternoon for the forthcoming 1956-57 basketball season.

The Quakers are practicing in the Fourth St. School gym while a new gym floor is being built in the high school.

Salem High Trailed Foes In Statistics

By MARK MILLER

The Salem High School football team which finished its 1956 season with a record of four wins and five defeats, lagged behind its opponents in most of the statistics, records show.

Ten Quaker players joined the scoring column via the touchdown route or by making extra points after the TD's were scored.

Top point getter for the Red and Black was senior Bill Schuster, with nine touchdowns and two extra points for a season total of 56 points.

An increase in the accuracy of extra point place kicking specialist, Benny Jones, a sophomore, was noted this year as compared with last year.

Jones made good 11 out of 18 attempts this season, and nine of 22 attempts last season, for a two year total of 20 out of 40. When not kicking extra points, Jones plays quarterback for the squad.

The Quakers will lose only 11 seniors out of a roster of 43 varsity players this year.

The school's 1956 football season record is as follows.

Salem 19—New Philadelphia 40
Salem 21—Ravenna 13
Salem 13—Canton Timken 33
Salem 34—Newton Falls 7

Michigan State scored 831 points to 295 for its rivals in winning 28 straight football games from 1950 through 1953.

UNDER HIS TRUE COLORS—Hungarian water polo star Dezso Gyarmaty carries a Hungarian flag bearing the Kossuth coat of arms, symbol of Hungarian independence, as he leads Olympic Games team mates from the plane in Melbourne, Australia. The hated Communist star had been removed from the flag and the symbol of freedom stitched in its place during the flight to Australia.

Buckeyes, Iowa In Crucial Test

Teams Lead Big 10 In Offense, Defense

CHICAGO (AP) —Ohio State aims its league-leading attacking force Saturday against Iowa, one of the Big Ten's defensive leaders, with a share of the football title and assurance of the Rose Bowl trip at stake for the Hawkeyes.

Official conference statistics today show how the teams line up on paper for the important showdown at Iowa City.

The Buckeyes, who set a new one-game record for rushing with 465 yards against Indiana last week, boosted their average to 328½ yards per game, 308 of them on the ground.

Next to Ohio State in rushing is Illinois with a 239.2 average.

Second to the Buckeyes in total offense is Michigan State with 323.8. The Spartans have averaged 225 rushing and 98.8 through the air.

A feature of the Buckeye attack is an average of 4.9 yards for every rushing play. They have averaged 62.5 ground plays per game, a Big Ten record pace topping the mark of 61.5 by Ohio State in 1944.

Statistically, Iowa is one of the best equipped teams in the conference to check the Buckeyes' bid for an 18th straight Big Ten victory and an unprecedented third successive undisputed title. The Hawkeyes rank only fifth in overall defense, but have been particularly rugged against a running game, giving up only 144.5 yards a game. Purdue is No. 1 in this respect with a yield of 109.4.

Ball control, which usually stamps a winner, is a lacking accomplishment of the Hawkeyes. They have put the ball in play only 59 times a game, second low to Northwestern, while their opponents have run or passed 68.6 times a game, second only to the high of 70 for Wisconsin's foes.

Abe Woodson of Illinois, with a net of 502 yards, holds the Big Ten rushing lead. Purdue's Mel Dillard is next with 444.

Although sidelined last week with a shoulder injury, Purdue's Len Dawson continues as the total offense leader with 582 yards, 576 of them through the air.

Brad Bomba of Indiana has moved ahead of Michigan's Ron Kramer in pass receiving with 15 catches.

Swaps Leg Heals But His Future Is Doubtful

CHINO, Calif. (AP) —Rex Ellsworth says Swaps' broken leg is healing satisfactorily but that it is too soon to tell whether he'll ever race again.

Swaps, holder of four world records and co-holder of a fifth, was injured during a workout Oct. 9 at Garden State Park, New Jersey. He is still confined there but co-owner Ellsworth says he plans to bring the 4-year-old California colt home "as soon as possible."

John Landy Makes Miserable Showing In Olympic Preview

MELBOURNE (AP)—John Landy's miserable showing at Geelong developed into a major subject for rainy weather discussion among Olympic athletes of other nations today at the rapidly filling Olympic Village.

The world's premier miler, holder of the 3:58 world record, ran a stiff-kneed second from last in a big field of a 2-mile race Wednesday night at hometown track meet to evoke sad remarks from his fellow Australians.

They had put great hopes on his slim shoulders for gold medals in the games opening a week from today.

But Landy still insisted he'd run in the 5,000 as well as the 1,500 meters in the games.

Bert Guyot, Australian track and field team manager, conceded Landy's effort Wednesday night "was no help."

He said Landy suffered a "deep seated shin soreness, but he's made no arrangements for treatment." He added: "He'll be in the race. If I were a competitor I couldn't disregard him."

Landy was only one of several track stars who created an armada of groans which always echo these pregames days.

A batch of Americans moaned whitefacedly in mess hall, where they successfully managed to get down an excellent luncheon of steaks, that they were suffering stomache aches which they personally characterized as "food poisoning."

One of the most notable was Thane Baker, 100 and 200-meter man who many are tipping as a possible upset winner in the sprints. Baker claimed he ran Wednesday night in great discomfort as did Rafer Johnson.

However, they didn't look like invalids Wednesday or today and American officials said the team was in magnificent shape.

That's how it goes these days, some favorites are complaining, others modestly admitting they can still walk.

But Gordon Pirie, British 5,000-meter world record breaker, just could not complain.

Running a series of 58 second quarter laps in intervals, Pirie was not shamefacedly admitting anything except he planned to win both the 5,000 and 10,000 meters.

The Hungarian squad, whose homeland tragedy has made their Olympic performance a question mark, received a bad break with a spike injury to woman javelin thrower, Erzsebeth (Elizabeth) Vigh.

However her coach said she would compete despite four stitches in her calf. She is the third best in the world this year.

Football Briefs

CHICAGO (AP)—Midwest football briefs:

Ohio State — Coach Woody Hayes praised the frosh for their showing in running Iowa's multiple offense against the varsity. "They certainly have helped us get ready," he said.

Iowa — Numerous injuries are responding to treatment, says coach Forest Evashevski. However, it won't be known until tomorrow whether star tackle Alex Karras will be able to play against Ohio State.

Michigan State — Pass offense was stressed in drills that wound up under lights. "Minnesota is winding up to play us the best game of its season," scout Burt Smith told the Spartans.

Minnesota — Assistant line coach Ray Malavasi, actively engaged in showing guard Dave Burkholder some tricks of the trade, suffered a possible shoulder separation. And Burkholder aggravated a previous shoulder injury.

Purdue — Passer Len Dawson, who sat out last week's 12-9 loss to Michigan State with a shoulder injury, may see some action against Northwestern, coach Jack Mollenkopf says.

Northwestern — The Wildcats lineup will remain unchanged for Purdue. Sophomore Andy Cverko will make his second start at tackle.

Indiana — Center Joe Amstutz, who missed last week's Ohio State game, was withheld from contact work again.

Michigan — The razor sharp varsity ripped off five touchdowns in seven plays, all on long runs, against reserves using Hoosier defenses. Terry Barr sped for two on end sweeps.

Wisconsin — The Badgers expect to be in top physical shape for Illinois. The last man on the casualty list, guard Bill Gehler, is now running with the regular squad.

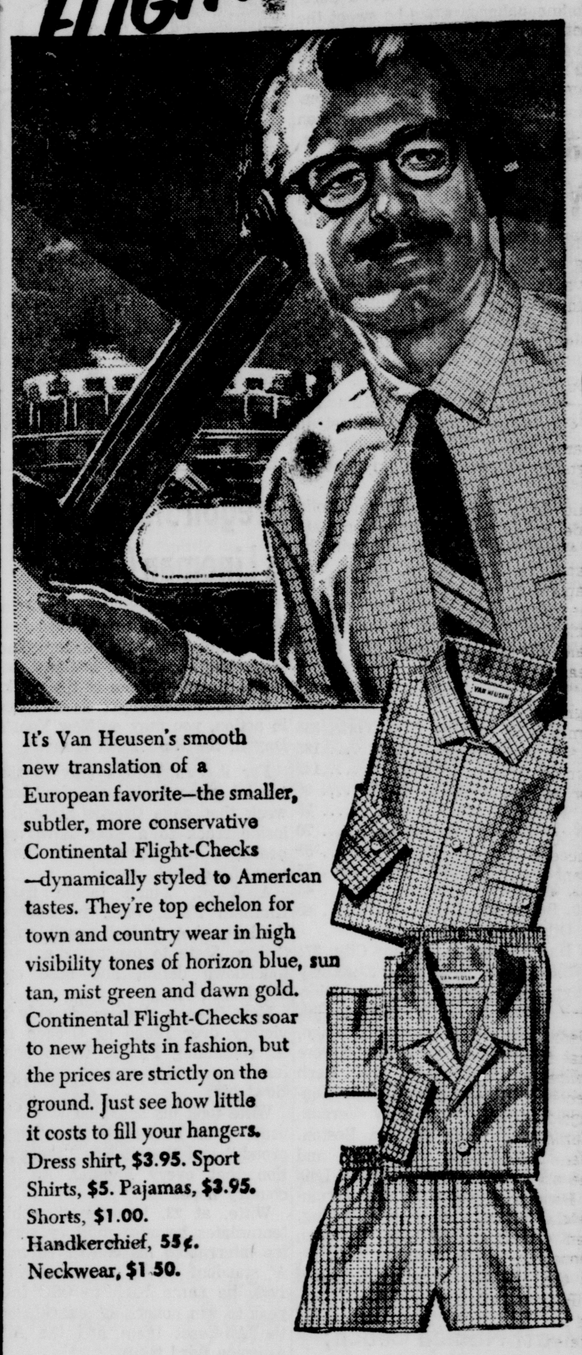

Illinois — Halfback Abe Woodson participated in another running drill in a sweatsut and it seems likely he will play at least part of the Wisconsin game. Starting right tackle Carl Johnson may be sidelined with a knee injury.

Notre Dame — Coach Terry Brennan says Paul Hornung likely will go at fullback against North Carolina with sophomore Bob Williams at quarterback.

Marquette — Halfback Lee Hermsen and fullback Al Robinson are making good recoveries from leg injuries and the Warriors may be at full strength for Holy Cross.

Wednesday night when word came that first units of the new U. N. police force had been ordered by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to land in the Suez at once. Hammarskjold left New York by plane to take personal charge of the operation.

Hammarskjold acted as dispatches from Moscow said Egypt had called on Russia to permit thousands of "volunteers" to go to the Arab state.

President Eisenhower commented in Washington that the United States would oppose — probably through the U. N. — the entry of any such volunteers into Egypt.

Before leaving New York's Idlewild Airport Hammarskjold voiced hope the U. N. force could succeed in "establishing peace and order."

"It is the first experience of its kind," he told newsmen. "Let us hope it will succeed."

Hammarskjold will confer in Italy with Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns, commander of the U. N. force, before pushing on to Cairo. Before leaving, Hammarskjold made public a letter from U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., giving details of the American offer of help for the emergenc force.

Lodge said the United States would provide air and surface transport for an estimated 3,500 to 5,000 men and their equipment to staging areas as requested by the U. N. command.

A $5,000 tractor with mounted corn picker owned by Arlo Dustman of Greenford was badly damaged by fire Wednesday afternoon about 2:30.

Dustman was picking corn on the neighboring Owen Slagle farm on the Sebring Pine Lake road when the tractor caught fire. The Green Twp. Volunteer Fire Department was called to extinguish it. It is believed a defective switch caused the fire.

Egypt were issued Wednesday night after an Arab diplomatic source had reported in Moscow that President Nasser had requested Russia to send so-called volunteer forces to Egypt immediately.

Moscow dispatches today said Egyptian diplomatic sources there still declined to discuss the report. There was a complete blackout on information at the Egyptian Embassy there. Requests for confirmation or denial of the report were met by "no comment" or "no one is available who can discuss this matter."

Before the vanguard's takeoff, the international force at Capodichino had swelled to 467 men of four nations — Denmark, Norway, Colombia and Canada. More are to come, with the force finally totaling perhaps 10,000.

There still was no word of a clear-cut agreement on the exact task of the police force in Egypt. This apparently remained to be worked out by U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, who flew into Rome today for conferences with Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns, commander of the U.N. international police force.

Squarely confronting the U. N. operation were the conflicting stands of Egypt and Britain, France and Israel on the role of the police force.

Egypt demands that the British, French and Israeli invasion forces withdraw immediately, that the U. N. force take up positions along the 1949 Egyptian-Israeli armistice lines, and that Egypt resume full control of the Suez Canal.

Britain and France say their troops now holding the north third of the Suez Canal will give up that area only to the U. N. force. They also have indicated that they expect the U. N. to put the canal back into operation and to control it until a settlement with Egypt.

Israel has given every indication it will not pull out of the Gaza Strip, which had been under Egyptian control since the end of the 1948 Palestine War. The strip was seized after Israeli forces plunged into Egypt Oct. 29.

Hanging over this barrier of disagreement was the fear of intervention by Communist "volunteers."

The report that Nasser had asked for such help came from an Arab diplomatic source in the Soviet capital. It was not confirmed by the Egyptian Embassy in Moscow.

armed resistance at the big plants on Czepel Island, in the Danube just south of the capital. But the workers there, after downing their guns, joined in the nationwide general strike.

Held Mass Meeting

Undaunted by the Soviet tanks and troops lining the roads to Csepel, the workers held a mass meeting demanding the ouster of the Kadar government and the reinstatement of former Premier Imre Nagy, who before the Russians kicked him out Nov. 4 had promised free elections and negotiations for the withdrawal of Soviet troops.

Kadar claimed he had reached an agreement with Soviet military authorities in Hungary that "no one may be deported," and declared the government would "hold no one responsible for participating in the uprising of the past three weeks.

This contradicted a Budapest radio broadcast Wednesday which admitted the Soviet army is deporting Hungarians to the East in sealed railway cars in a desperate effort to stamp out revolutionary elements. The radio told of the deportations in explaining why the general strike had not ended.

Kadar declared in today's statement only persons arrested during commission of "acts of terror" and crimes would be prosecuted.

ceive in the rush season. He added that if packages are insured, the post office will pay for any damages or loss.

He said each year thousands of letters never reach their intended destination because senders are inaccurate with addresses. If a mailer is not sure of an address he should use first class postage and write a return address on the envelope so it can be forwarded to the new address or returned to the sender.

Cards for distant points should be mailed by Dec. 10, and local cards, by Dec. 15.

To avoid waiting in line, the postmaster advises mailers to buy stamps early. The best time of day is before 11 a.m. or between 1 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. Commemorative stamps are available now for those who wish to use them at Christmas, but the supply is running short and they won't be available after Dec. 5, he said.

Sea Master Crash Blamed On Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—Loss of the Navy's second jet-powered seaplane resulted from failure of a control mechanism.

The Navy said Wednesday it had been determined the XP6M1 SeaMaster crashed last Friday after it looped out of the pilot's control and then broke apart in midair.

This accident bore a resemblance to the crash of the first SeaMaster last December. In both cases, destruction of the planes was attributed to malfunctioning of control gear.

The four crewmen, civilian technicians with the Glenn L. Martin Co. of Baltimore, parachuted to safety.

In the crash of the first SeaMaster 11 months ago, control trouble sent the plane into a partial outside loop, after which it disintegrated. Four persons on board were killed.

Despite the loss of the first two SeaMasters, costing $5,600,000 apiece, a spokesman said the Navy plans to continue its jet seaplane program. It has ordered 24 SeaMasters from the Martin company.

Forfeiting bonds on overload charges were Clifford O. Huntington, 37, of Osgood, Ind., and Roberty Corey, 22, of Columbiana, each $25.

RELEASED UNDER BOND

LISBON — Robert L. Wooten, 22, of East Liverpool who Sept. 18 was bound over to the grand jury on a charge of forging a $46 check, was released under $500 bond Wednesday.

Mahoning Local School Board Hears Unification Report

A progress report on unifying the administrative functions in the overall school system was submitted by Arthur S. Gaffga, administrative head of the Mahoning Local School district, when the Mahoning Local Board of Education met Wednesday night at Knox School.

The meeting was brief since members were guests at open house observances in Knox and Goshen Union schools. The open house events for parents and families in all Mahoning Local schools were in commemoration of National Education Week.

A report for adoption by the board in conjunction with the rules for gymnasium use in the schools will be submitted by Gaffga at the next meeting.

The unified menu set up for use in all school cafeterias has been successful in cutting down costs of food and transportation and also has been worked out satisfactorily with cafeteria personnel, Gaffga reported.

The refinishing of the gymnasium at Sebring McKinley High School is nearing completion, Gaffga told the board. A portion of the work's cost was defrayed by the Sebring Athletic Association, with materials furnished by the school board. Much of the labor on the project was done by school employes.

Gaffga also proposed the planting of grass seed at McKinley High School in front of the new addition which at present is unseeded.

In other business, the boarl hired Ray C. Carver of Homeworth as a bus driver for Knox School, following its acceptance of the resignation of driver Eugene Rogers of Homeworth. Franklyn LeFevre of Sebring was appointed by the board to serve on its insurance committee.

Glenn Shreve, of Goshen, president, told the board that the laying of drainage tile in front of the Goshen School edifice has been completed.

At the meeting were Shreve, Norman Barnett of Smith and Maple Ridge School; Leland Glass, Smith and Beloit Schools; George Gottschall, Sebring Schools; and Dale Schoeni, Knox. W. C. Smith, Mahoning County superintendent of schools, usually present at the board's sessions, was absent.

The board will meet again Dec. 12 at Goshen Union High School.

two days later in Salem City Hospital.

In a minor mishap investigated last night by patrolmen of the Salem barracks, cars driven by Ada M. Burgess, 29, of RD 1, Salem and Robert L. May, 18, of RD 4, Salem, collided on Rt. 534, about one and one-half miles north of Damascus, at 10:10.

Patrolmen said both cars were traveling north when the accident occurred. May was attempting to pass when the other driver began a left turn, they said.

Slight damages were caused to the autos. Ada Burgess was cited for failure to signal a turn.

Value Of Ohio River Cited

Official Terms River Important As Seaway

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The president of the Ohio Valley Improvement Assn. told a forum on the St. Lawrence Seaway here Wednesday that the Ohio River is as important a waterway as the Seaway will someday become.

Harry M. Mack of Cincinnati indicated in his talk that some businessmen along the Ohio River view the coming of the Seaway with apprehension. Mack said he believes the Seaway will take away some of the Ohio River traffic.

Mack did not use a speech prepared for the forum, held during the 63rd annual meeting of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce. He said those at the meeting had seen it already.

In the prepared speech he stressed gains that could be forthcoming from improvements on Ohio River navigation facilities and from expansion of Great Lakes shipping over the Seaway.

"If we have the necessary imagination and foresight," said Mack, "the entire community between the lakes and Ohio (River) will benefit immeasurably" from both the new Seaway and improved Ohio River facilities.

Ohio Valley steel mills, Mack continued, would be able to expand operations with cheaper freight costs over the two waterways.

William Papier, director of research for the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, warned that "the biggest bottleneck to Ohio's future industrial growth may easily be widespread shortages of professional, skilled and technical personnel."

Declaring that "part of Ohio's remarkable growth in recent years may be credited to the Seaway project," Papier said that to anticipate future needs "we should be thinking . . . of more effective ways to use our manpower."

Among other things, Papier said "we should check the extent to which other states have been pulling our engineers, scientists, teachers and others away from Ohio, and why."

Hundreds of millions of dollars, said Papier, which have been invested in the Seaway and related projects, "have found their way into the pockets of Ohio employers and their workers."

Col. Loren W. Olmstead, district engineer at Buffalo for the Army Corps of Engineers, said that to get maximum benefits from Seaway improvements, Ohio ports "need facilities to accommodate the largest type of ship that can pass through the St. Lawrence Seaway and the Welland Canal."

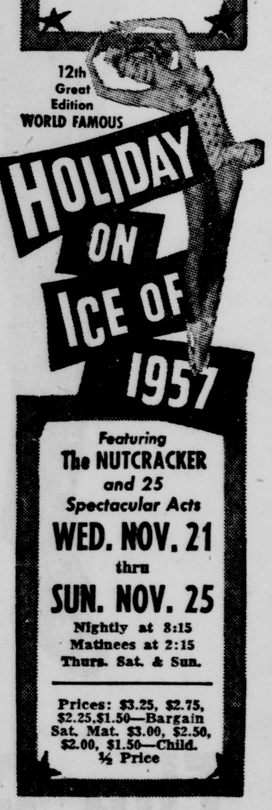

Olmstead indicated that channel depths are inadequate in many Ohio ports. He said "in certain cases there are quite serious restrictions such as sharp bends in the harbor channels or vertical clearances beneath bridges or overhead crossings too low for Seaway traffic."

T. Coleman Andrews, former U. S. commissioner of internal revenue, addressed the Chamber of Commerce banquet in the evening.

Ham Steak Is Autumn Meal

That time - tested combination, sauerkraut and apples, is one that's good to remember for a hearty cool-weather supper. Our favorite quick way of preparing the sauerkraut and apples is to put them in a big skillet with onion and brown sugar. If you use an attractive looking skillet, you can bring it right to the table.

Choose apples that do not easily "fall apart" during cooking if you want to serve firm apple slices with the sauerkraut. If you don't mind the apples getting "mushy," choose such a variety as McIntosh. In a way having the apples fall apart is all to the good because the good fruit flavor reaches every strand of the cabbage!

Pork chops and pork roast are fine with the sauerkraut and apple team. But equally delicious is broiled ham with currant jelly.

Skillet Kraut

Ingredients: 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1 medium - sized onion (finely chopped), 3 tablespoons light or dark brown sugar, 1 can(1-pound) sauerkraut, salt and pepper, 2 medium-sized red unpeeled apples (cored and cut in eighths).

Method: Melt butter in a medium sized skillet (about 10 inches) over moderately low heat. Add onion and cook, stirring often, until wilted and yellowed (or until lightly browned if you prefer). Mix in brown sugar and sauerkraut; add salt and pepper to taste. Bury apple slices in sauerkraut. Cover and cook slowly, stirring a few times, until apples are tender — about 10 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Broiled Ham

Whether you use a slice of cook-before-eating or a slice of fully-cooked ham for broiling, it's a good idea to notch the fat around the outside of the meat in a number of places to keep the slice from curling. Use a knife or your kitchen scissors for this slashing.

A cook-before-eating slice of ham that is about ¾-inch thick will need to be placed on your broiler rack so that the top of the meat is several inches below the heat unit. The ham will need about 6 minutes broiling on each side. A ready-to-eat ham slice that is the same thickness may be arranged the same way under the broiler, but it will need only about 3 minutes on each side. These timings are approximate and for use in broilers that have been preheated about 10 minutes.

For a delightful sauce for the ham, melt currant jelly with a little butter and pour over the broiled ham slice. For a ¾-inch thick ham slice, you can use 1-3 cup currant jelly, and 1 or 2 tablespoons of butter; if you like a lot of sauce, just double these amounts.

Short some fruit juice for a molded sweet salad made with unflavored gelatin? Use ginger ale!

A GORGE-OUS TRIP IN A CANYON

TRAVELING down the winding ledge trail into the Grand canyon of Arizona is an event not everyone can experience, but, for those who haven't made that trip, these photos try to capture the immensity of it. You go down by mule. The trail is six-feet wide. From the south rim, guided caravans descend Bright Angel trail, stopping briefly at Indian gardens, then on to Granite gorge. Two-day trips are available.

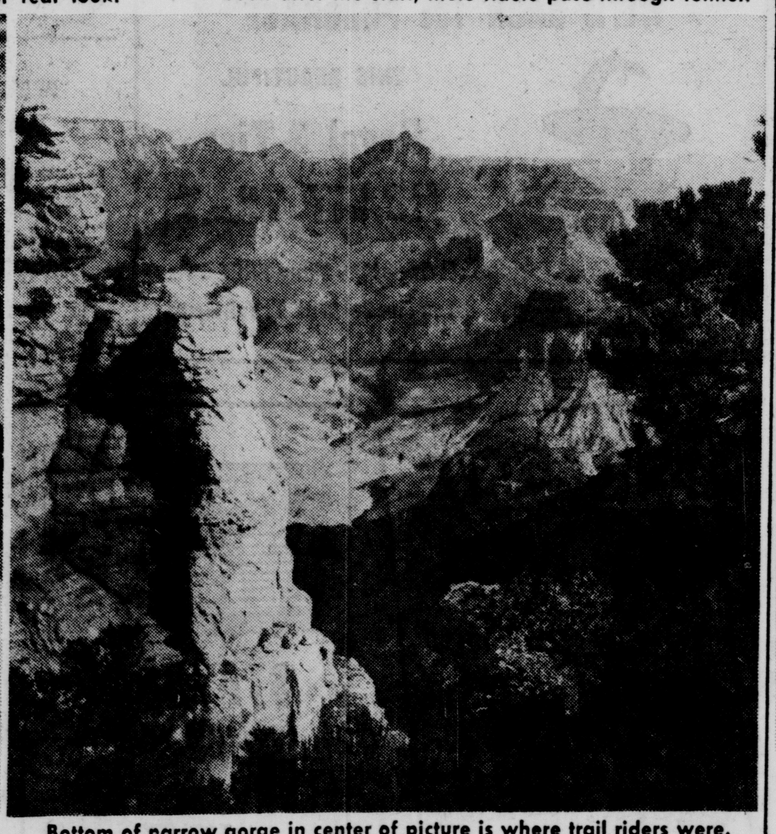

Tourists round the first curve on the trail, then stop for that first real look.

Soon after the start, mule riders pass through tunnel.

Half-way down, they near Indian gardens, then lunch below later.

Bottom of narrow gorge in center of picture is where trail riders were.

At that time we made our selection from the area's best sources, babied them along until last week, when we selected only those that provided rich, meaty flavor, to keep that farm-fresh goodness and now priced TO SAVE YOU MONEY!

Put Sausage on Pizzas

Pork sausage for cooking comes in links, in bulk and in country style (medium coarse). Here's the way to cook it:

Frying: 1. Put links in skillet with 2 tablespoons water. Cover and let stand 5 minutes. Drain, then cook over low heat, turning frequently, until sausage is well browned and thoroughly cooked.

2. Put links in cold skillet and cook over low heat 12 to 15 minutes, turning often until browned. Pour off fat as it accumulates.

Baking: Place links on rack in shallow pan. Place on top shelf of a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 10 to 15 minutes. No turning is necessary.

Here's how to cook bacon:

Frying: Place bacon slices in a cold frying pan. Use low heat and cook until bacon is desired degree of doneness, turning once. It is unnecessary to pour off accumulated fat. Drain cooked bacon.

Broiling: Place bacon slices on broiler rack 3 inches from heat. Turn once.

Baking: Place separated bacon slices on rack in a shallow baking pan. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 10 minutes, or until browned.

Easy Pizzas

Four English muffins, ¼ cup butter or margarine, melted, 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce, ¼ pound American or Mozzarella cheese, grated Parmesan cheese, oregano, bacon or sausage.

Cut English muffins in half; brush with part of melted butter. Toast. Spread each muffin with a tablespoon of tomato sauce. Cover with slices of American or Mozzarella cheese. Sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese and oregano. Spoon a teaspoon of melted butter or margarine on each pizza before putting into oven. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 15 minutes. Prepare bacon or sausage to top each pizza before serving.

Fresh Plum Sponge Mold Is Always Popular

Delicious sponge mold dessert can continue to be on the scene even when fresh plums are not in season.

Markets keep fruits available continually and recipes requiring fresh fruit need not be shelved until their harvest time rolls around each year.

To repare the sponge mold, use 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin, ½ cup cold water, 1½ cups fresh orange juice, ¼ cup fresh lemon juice, 1 cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 4 whole plums, 2 egg whites, 2 cups (1 pound) sliced plums.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Place over hot water (not boiling) to melt. In a large mixing bowl combine orange juice, lemon juice, ¾ cup of the sugar and the salt. Mix well. Cut whole plums in half, remove pits, and place in any desired pattern around the bottom of a 6-cup mold. Pour ½ cup of the clear mixture over plums. Chill until firm.

Place the remaining gelatin mixture in the refrigerator to chill until about as thick as fresh egg whites, about 1 hour. Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks, into which gradually beat in the remaining ¼ cup sugar and fold into the gelatin. Fold in sliced plums. Turn into the mold. Chill until firm and ready to serve. Unmold on a serving plate. Garnish as desired. Serve as dessert. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Produce Tempting Pork Loin

The meat industry is close-trimming all pork cuts to save a higher proportion of lean meat. For economy, buy a large cut and let it serve as the basis for several meals.

The loin roast, if properly cut, will give three different fresh-cooked meals. Ask your meat man to saw through the ribs high enough to leave an inch-thick layer of meat on the backbones. Have him cut the backbones into serving-size pieces. Once the backbones have been removed, it is easy to slice between the ribs to cut as many pork chops as you need. The remaining piece will be just the right size for a one-meal pork roast.

Roast Loin of Pork

Wipe meat with a clean, damp cloth. Season with salt and pepper. Place roast, fat side up, on a rack in an open roasting pan. Do not add water, do not cover, do not baste. To accurately determine doneness, use a meat thermometer. Insert it carefully through outside fat into the center of thickest muscle and do not allow bulb to rest on bone or fat. Roast in a pre-heated slow oven (325 degrees F.) 35 to 40 minutes per pound or until meat thermometer registers 185 degrees F.

Barbecued Country Style Backbones

Two tablespoons molasses, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, 2 tablespoons vinegar or lemon juice, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, ½ teaspoon pepper sauce.

Place backbones in shallow baking pan. Combine molasses and prepared mustard. Stir in vinegar, Worcestershire sauce and pepper sauce. Roast in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1½ hours, brushing several times with sauce.

Braised Pork Chops

Four rib pork chops, salt, pepper, 1-3 to ½ cup liquid (water, tomato juice, bouillon, etc.).

Sprinkle chops with salt and pepper. Melt small amount of fat in skillet. Brown chops slowly on both sides, 15 to 20 minutes. Add liquid; cover. Simmer 45 to 60 minutes, (depending on thickness of chops) or until fork-tender, adding additional liquid during cooking if necessary. Turn chops occasionally.

Currant jelly makes a pretty and delicious glaze for a boneless smoked pork shoulder butt. This cut of meat is fine for a small family.

Leftover Turkey Needs Seasoning

Leftover turkey can be just the beginning of pleasant eating. You need good recipes plus the knack of seasoning.

Try this turkey pie. Freda DeKnight, one of the country's best cooks, gives it in her "Date with a Dish," an appetizing collection of American Negro recipes.

Turkey Pie

Three to 4 cups leftover turkey, 1 medium onion, 2 whole cloves, 4 carrots, ½ cup flour, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, 2 cups vegetable stock; meat, turkey or chicken broth (canned broth may be used), 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, ¼ cup butter, ½ cup celery, chopped, 2 cups evaporated milk, pastry.

Parboil carrots, onion, cloves, celery and garlic in soup or stock. Blend flour and butter. Add vegetables and stock, cook until thick. Add milk, diced turkey and lemon juice. Season to taste. Place in deep pie pan or casserole. Place rich pastry on top. Brush with milk. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 15 minutes. Reduce heat, continue to bake 10 minutes longer until brown.

Serve with a green salad bowl, pumpkin chiffon pie and coffee.

Turkey pie may be baked individually in small casseroles. A rich biscuit dough may be used for the crust, if desired.

Pork Shoulder Butt Renders 3 Meals

For economy and convenience select a fresh pork shoulder butt. You can count on three or four different dinners from it.

The whole fresh pork shoulder butt is a nearly boneless cut, about 5 to 7 pounds. Have it cut in easy-to-use portions. Or cut it easily at home, using a sharp knife.

Cut across the roast to divide it into two pieces. Use the piece from the larger end with the bone for roasting. The remaining part of the butt is solid meat. From it you can cut boneless pork steaks about ½-inch thick. These are excellent to braise just like pork chops.

Cut the remaining boneless pork into thin strips for chop suey, dice it for casseroles, or grind it for a meat loaf or patties.

Fresh Shoulder Butt

Sprinkle 3 to 4-pound fresh pork shoulder butt with salt and pepper. Place meat, fat side up, on rack in open roasting pan. If you have a meat thermometer, insert through the outside fat into thickest part of muscle, so point does not rest on fat or bone. Do not add water; do not cover; do not baste. Roast in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) 45 to 50 minutes per pound, or until meat thermometer registers 185 degrees F.

Pork Chop Suey

One pound boned lean pork, 1 bouillon cube, 1 cup boiling water, 2 potatoes, cut in julienne strips, 1 green pepper, cut in strips, 1 large onion, sliced, 1 cup coarsely diced celery, 1 can (3 or 4 ounces) sliced mushrooms, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons soy sauce, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, hot cooked rice.

Cut meat in thin strips; brown in large skillet. Dissolve bouillon cube in boiling water; add to browned meat. Cover and simmer 45 minutes. Add julienne potatoes, green pepper, onion, celery, mushrooms, salt and soy sauce. Cook, stirring occasionally, 15 minutes longer. Blend cornstarch with small amount of cold water; stir into hot mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Serve with hot cooked rice.

Vacuum-Packed Nuts Are For Yuletime

Just in time for the Christmas holidays, there's a new line of vacuum-packed nuts on the market. These brand name nuts, of exceptionally high quality, include pecans, walnuts, black walnuts, almonds and salted mixed nuts.

Pralines

One pound dark brown sugar, ¼ cup cold water, 1 tablespoon margarine or butter, 2 cans (2 cups) pecans.

Combine sugar, water and margarine or butter in a heavy saucepan. Bring to boiling point, stirring constantly. Add pecans and continue cooking stirring occasionally, until a little of the syrup dropped in cold water forms a soft ball (238 degrees F. on candy thermometer). Remove from heat and cool slightly. Drop heaping tablespoons on well buttered cookie sheet to form patties 3 to 4 inches across. When cool and set, remove with spatula. Wrap in heavy waxed paper.

Royal Pecan Macaroons

Two and one-half cans (2½ cups) pecans, 1 cup light brown sugar, pinch of salt, 1 egg white, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract.

Reserve 3 dozen pecan meats. Chop remaining pecan meats powdery fine. Add brown sugar and salt to powdered nuts. Add unbeaten egg white, vanilla extract and stir until thoroughly combined. Form by level tablespoons into small balls, and place not too close together on 2 well-greased cookie sheets. Press into each one a small pecan meat. Bake in moderately hot oven (350 degrees F. to 375 degrees F.) about 10 to 12 minutes. Remove from pan while still warm.

Variations On Turkey Theme

After the lordly Thanksgiving turkey, what then? Lots of good dishes can be the answer.

At our favorite New England inn, the Publick House in Sturbridge, Mass., we learned about these two delicious variations on the left-over turkey theme.

Corn and Turkey Chowder

Four tablespoons dried-out salt pork, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 chopped onion, 2 chopped celery stalks, 2 sprigs chopped parsley, 2 cups diced cooked potatoes and their water, 2 cups chicken or turkey stock, 2 No. 2 cans creamed corn, 1 cup cooked diced turkey, 1 cup hot rich milk or cream.

Saute onion, celery and parsley in salt pork fat until tender, but not brown. Strain fat off vegetables and add flour to the fat and cook without browning. Pour on the hot chicken or turkey stock and bring to a boil for 10 minutes. Add vegetables, potatoes and potato water and diced turkey and corn. Simmer over low heat for a few minutes to blend flavors; add hot cream or milk. Serve immediately.

Creamed Turkey and Oysters

Three tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 cup light cream, 8 ounces cooked turkey sliced into strips, ½ pint oysters, 1 cup water, salt and pepper.

Poach the oysters lightly in the water with the salt and pepper. Drain and set aside. Melt the butter over a medium fire and add the flour gradually. Cook 2 or 3 minutes, stirring constantly. Pour on oyster liquid and the cream slowly and continue stirring, cooking until sauce is smooth. Just before serving add poached oysters and turkey. Serve piping hot with slices of toast or in patty shells. Garnish with watercress.

Spareribs, Hocks Thrifty Meat Buys

Spareribs and sauerkraut and flavorful pork hocks are everyday family favorites. Both of these cuts are thrifty meat buys.

Spareribs (the breast and rib bones) have very tender, juicy, lean meat between them. Pork hocks are cut from the lower part of the foreleg, containing nuggets of lean meat. When buying these bony cuts, allow 2-3 to ¾ pound for each person.

Spareribs and Sauerkraut

Three pounds spareribs, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 quart sauerkraut, ½ teaspoon caraway seed.

Cut spareribs into serving-size pieces and place in large saucepan. Add hot water to cover and simmer, covered, until meat is nearly tender, about 1 hour. Pour off most of the water, add sauerkraut and caraway seed, and cook another half hour.

Pork in a Nest

Four pork hocks, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 bay leaf, 1 cup celery leaves coarsely cut, 1 medium head cabbage.

Wash pork hocks; cover with water. Add salt, bay leaf and celery tops; heat to boiling. Simmer 1½ to 2 hours or until tender. Cut cabbage in 8 wedges; add to pork. Cook 10 to 15 minutes, or until cabbage is tender. To serve, place pork hocks in center of platter and circle with cabbage wedges.
